Bill Provokes Native Riots In South Africa

Police Fire Into Throng When Pass Order Enforced

CAPETOWN, June 18 (AP).—Rioting broke out today in the native quarter of the mining town of Odendaalsus, Orange Free State, over the Nationalist government's tightening of white-supremacy measures.

Police fired into the melee, seriously injuring four natives and wounding 20 others. A police station was wrecked, a police car burned, and some policemen were injured.

The fighting flared when police tried to enforce an order requiring native negro women to carry special passes when they went out on the street.

The rioting was part of the fiery opposition to Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan's policies.

In Capetown, the chief opposition leader said his party will have nothing to do with the newly created high court of parliament. This court was set up to over-rule an appeals court which killed a government effort to remove 50,000 Cape colored persons (those of mixed blood) from the general voting list.

J. G. N. Strauss said his united party regarded the Court of Parliament as morally indefensible.

Malan proposed the Court of Parliament, in which all members of the Senate and House will sit as judges in secret, to pass on the constitutionality of their own acts.

Seaway Plan Pressed By Canada

OTTAWA, June 18 (CP).—Plans for all-Canadian navigation facilities on the St. Lawrence seaway-power project pushed ahead today despite the United States Senate's shelving of legislation for a joint Canada-U.S. job.

Right after the Senate setback to full U.S. participation, official quarters here predicted a start on the $650,000,000 undertaking by next spring if permission is received in time from the international joint commission.

The U.S. government is continuing its co-operation with Canada in an application before the commission for permission to change river levels for the power scheme. Under that alternative plan, Ontario and some authority designated by the U.S. administration would create the power project. The Canadian government alone would build the navigation works but will not proceed unless the power phase can be constructed concurrently.

Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier said today he expects the senate move will not interfere with that. He told the Commons the application to the commission — which regulates boundary waters—will be made "forthwith."

NO INTERFERENCE

"The decision of Congress," he said in the Commons, "should not interfere in the slightest with the intention of Canada to proceed with its own development of the seaway on Canada's side of the boundary and also to proceed before the international joint commission, with the concurrence of the U.S., insofar as the development of power is concerned."

The Canadian and U.S. application to the international commission will ask specifically for authorization to build the $400,000,000 hydro system on the river.

Favorable decision is expected quickly.

One in Eleven Out of Work

One of every 11 men in British Columbia is out of work today because of strikes and the percentage is expected to rise after the week end.

The coast logging and lumber industry is at a standstill. So is practically all coastal construction. And the salmon fishing industry is faced with a walkout Sunday.

About 40,000 men are now on strike in the lumber and building industries. If the fishermen walk out the total will jump to about 46,000.

Doctors' Aid Unstinting

A Korean woman climbs down the Athbaskan's ladder after having been aboard the Canadian destroyer for a medical examination. The ship's medical officer, Surg.-Lieut. C. A. West of Mimico, Ont., treats more sick Koreans than he does Canadians. The Koreans know that they can ask help from any of the Canadian destroyers whose doctors are unstinting of their time. —(CP from National Defense.)

Danes, Sweden Warn Russia

STOCKHOLM, June 18 (AP)—Denmark joined Sweden today in ordering her air force to do battle if fired upon by Soviet planes.

Both countries, alarmed at a show of rapidly-increasing force in northern Europe and the shooting down of a Swedish plane this week, thus served notice that they do not intend to bow to any long-range Soviet plan to make the Baltic a "Stalin lake."

Sweden tonight rejected a Moscow protest that a Swedish Catalina flying boat, shot down Monday with seven men aboard, had invaded Soviet territory and started the shooting.

The Swedish note said only two Catalinas were flying in the area at the time, that both were unarmed and therefore could not have shot at anybody, and that "thorough investigation" had established that both stayed within international waters.

Admiral E. J. C. Quistgaard, chief of the Danish joint chiefs of staff, gave the orders to the Danish air force which matched similar instructions to Swedish airmen.

Quistgaard recalled that standing orders were issued last March that any Danish military units fired upon by Soviet planes or ships should shoot back. He said the orders applied to an attack either inside or outside Danish territory.

His order referred to the incident of Monday in which seven Swedish airmen, two of them wounded, were rescued after reporting their Catalina flying boat had been shot down by two Soviet Mig-15 jet fighters off the Soviet-controlled Estonian coast.

The Swedish Catalina was searching for a Swedish air force DC-3 transport, with a crew of eight, which has been missing since last Friday. When last reported it was in the middle of the Baltic east of Stockholm, and headed toward an area where vast Soviet naval and air manoeuvres have been in progress.

Moscow last night lodged a curt protest with Sweden charging that a Swedish plane invaded Soviet airspace over Ristna Island, about 50 miles off the Estonian coast, and was chased away after opening fire on Russian fighters. This was said to have happened early Monday.

Union's Strike Vote Claimed Not Secret

A recent union-conducted strike vote by the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) was not secret, a woodworker claimed last night.

He made his claim in a signed and witnessed statement given The Daily Colonist.

The vote referred to was that conducted last week and referred to by an I.W.A. policy committee statement on June 11.

The statement said, "the conducting of the union strike vote is continuing and early returns indicate that the ballot when finally completed will give the union over 90 per cent in favor of strike action."

The woodworkers struck Saturday midnight when their contract expired and when negotiations with operators failed to reach contract settlement.

"In my case, in voting whether the union members favored a strike to back 1952 contract demands, marking of the ballot was done in full view of a union official at my camp, without benefit of a curtained polling booth," the I.W.A. member stated.

Defense Made Of Doukhobors

BANFF, Alta., June 18 (CP)—The Doukhobor problem in the Interior of British Columbia has not been caused solely by Doukhobor beliefs, delegates to the Canadian Psychological Association convention were told today by Dr. E. I. Signori, of the University of British Columbia.

Dr. Signori said that investigation had shown that the "Doukhobor problem" has been greatly increased by the lack of understanding on the part of other Canadians.

"The basic solution to the problem will require an attitude of acceptance by Canadians," Dr. Signori commented.

He told the group that they must realize that there are three factions within the Doukhobor settlement.

About 8,000 of the 11,000 Doukhobors in B.C. are not causing trouble. They have refused to obey certain government orders but have not caused any violent trouble.

The remaining 3,000 persons, members of the Sons of Freedom sect, have caused the problem.

Winch Offers To Mediate

VANCOUVER, June 18 (CP).—C.C.F. leader Harold Winch tonight offered his services to "employers and employees as mediator in the present critical strike situation" in British Columbia.

"If the employers and employees think I can be of assistance," he said, "I will be glad to act as mediator."

Earlier today, Mr. Winch wired Premier Byron Johnson suggesting that the Liberal leader "act as mediator in an attempt to reach satisfactory agreements."

Alexander Praises Work Of U.N. Forces in Korea

Criticism Without Basis, Says General in Edmonton

EDMONTON, June 18 (CP).—Earl Alexander, fresh from a tour of the Korean battlefronts, said here tonight that he was impressed with United Nations teamwork there. He added that any British criticism of the handling of the whole Korean situation was "absolutely unjustified."

The British defense minister and former governor-general of Canada arrived in Edmonton by R.C.A.F. aircraft tonight from Tokyo. He was to stop over for five hours before continuing his flight to Ottawa where he is scheduled to give the Canadian cabinet tomorrow an on-the-spot report of his Korean visit.

Restrictions which barred reporters from the airfield when he landed were relaxed on Earl Alexander's own instructions and he gave a 10-minute press conference.

He said that during his Korean tour he met corps, divisional and unit commanders and discussed the situation with them. He was impressed with the way the small units were proud to belong to a team.

GOOD EXPERIENCE

"It's one of the best examples of teamwork that I've ever seen," he said. "It struck me more forcefully than anything else, that there, for the first time, is a United Nations force fighting a war.

"If we ever have to fight a third world war—I certainly hope we don't—this will provide a sort of dress rehearsal."

Referring to criticism of the Korean war handling from some British quarters, the minister said he felt it was a lack of information rather than pure criticism which had aroused feelings in Britain.

"The people in England have been awfully ignorant of what is happening over there," he said.

Earl Alexander said he hoped the British people would be reassured after he makes his report on Korea to Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

He said he was "very favorably impressed with the whole (Korean) layout."

APPEAR DEFENSIVE

Correspondents overseas had asked him if the Reds were going to launch another major offensive. He said that while this was difficult to anticipate, the Chinese disposition at the moment appeared to be more defensive than offensive.

"If they do launch an offensive, I don't see any reason why we should be perturbed," Earl Alexander said. "The United Nations' forces are so well prepared that I think they will take care of it, although there may be some penetration."

Referring to Canadian troops in Korea, he said he found the men "very cheerful and happy." During his Korean tour he had spent one full day with the Commonwealth division and the first troops he had visited were members of the Canadian brigade.

He spent one night on the front and observed a Royal Canadian Regiment patrol as it penetrated 1,500 yards into enemy territory.

Japan Snubs Reds

TOKYO, June 18 (AP).—Japan announced today she recognizes Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists as the government for all China, thus slamming the door on speculation she might sign a separate pact with Red China.

The major policy decision, announced by the Japanese foreign office, followed months of wavering. The treaty signed with the Chinese Nationalists April 28 had left an opening for relations with Peiping.

Eija Wajima, chief of the foreign office's Asia bureau, explained the change in policy before the Lower House Foreign Affairs Committee. The new position is this:

1. Japan has "no relations whatsoever with the Peiping regime" and it "is inconceivable" that Japan will sign any treaty with that government.

2. The treaty with the Nationalist government applies to all China. There is no longer a state of war that calls for any further treaty with any Chinese government.

EVENTUAL MARKET

Many Japanese merchants and politicians look to Red China as an eventual, inevitable market for Japan's resurgent industry.

Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida had said he would welcome an agreement with the Peiping regime—and Russia, too—under proper conditions. But he told the Diet (parliament) last January 25 Japan could not sign a peace treaty with either country as long as Russia holds prisoner thousands of Japanese Second World War soldiers.

The United States strongly opposed a Red treaty, but economic pressures would have given the Japanese government reason to sign with the Reds. The policy change thus seemed to go beyond what was either expected or required of Japan.

Soviet Scheme Charged

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., June 18 (AP).—U.S. delegate Ernest A. Gross said today Russia and Red China have set the stage for using germ warfare by making repeated charges that the Allies are carrying on bacteriological warfare in Korea.

Gross made the statement in a sharp retort to Russia's Jakob Malik in the U.N. Security Council after Malik appealed to the council to recommend that all countries, including the U.S., ratify the 1925 Geneva protocol against such weapons.

Malik spoke for 18 minutes without mentioning once the germ war charges.

Gross said there was a reservation to the 1925 Geneva protocol by the Russians that if an enemy or an ally of an enemy used such weapons the Russians were free to use them. Gross said this reservation, plus the charges, showed they were setting the stage for using such weapons.

New Financial Deal Approved for C.N.R.

OTTAWA, June 18 (CP).—The Commons today approved a new financial deal for the debt-ridden Canadian National Railways.

Members gave third and final reading to a bill revising the capital structure of the publicly-owned C.N.R. and sharply scaling its annual interest on debt.

The measure—it now goes to the Senate for three readings—was designed to help the C.N.R. to balance its budget. Many of the deficits have been caused by the interest charges on debts of non-profitable lines absorbed by the C.N.R.

J. M. Macdonnell (P.C.—Toronto-Greenwood), chief financial critic for the Progressive Conservative opposition, said the only disappointing thing about the legislation was that there was no assurance it will be the last such measure. No one could say if additional relief will be required by the C.N.R.

There were these other developments:

In the Senate, Royal assent was given to bills already passed by both chambers. They included measures giving effect to the tax changes in the 1952-53 budget.

External Affairs Minister Pearson said a detailed reply has been received from the United States government to Canada's protest over the sending of Canadian troops to Koje Island without prior consultation with Ottawa.

Tito Nearing Formal Break With Bulgaria

BELGRADE, June 18 (AP)—In a move just one short step from a formal break, Yugoslavia ended tonight all but messenger-boy diplomatic relations with Bulgaria, its Russian-led Cominform neighbor.

The official Belgrade radio said Yugoslavia is recalling all but a single attache in Sofia as a result of Bulgaria's rejection of three formal notes protesting the alleged kidnapping of an employee at Yugoslavia's embassy in Bulgaria's capital.

It was the strongest action Premier Tito's government has taken against any of the hostile Cominform countries since Yugoslavia ruptured diplomatic relations with tiny Albania in November, 1950.

Police Find Source Of Mystery Blood

The man who left "half a gallon of blood" on the West Saanich Road early Sunday morning has been found.

Police Chief Vernon Lawley of Central Saanich said last night the victim is an an Indian youth who severely cut his left arm when he lost control of a motor cycle and went off the road.

A passing motorist picked the young man up and took him to Sidney where he was treated by a doctor.

The motorcycle belonged to the victim's brother.

A charge of failing to report an accident may be laid next week, the chief said.

The investigation into the origin of the pool of blood was started when a resident of the district reported he heard a squealing of brakes and breaking glass about 2 a.m. Sunday. Blood and broken glass were found on the road in the morning.

A soft drink bottle was found nearby the following day, and for a while it was believed that a beating had taken place.

An intense investigation by the chief brought to light evidence that pointed to a motorcycle accident, and yesterday afternoon the injured man was found.

Chicken Raider Killed

Masked Marauder who will maraud no more is this raccoon, shot shortly before noon yesterday in backyard of W. D. Jasper, 3621 Elliston Street. 'Coon was tumbled from oak tree beneath which baby in pram was sleeping, by single shot from Mr. Jasper's scope-sighted .22-long rifle. Neighbors had been complaining of raids on chickens.—(Colonist photo by Bud Kinsman.)

War Claims Fund Due To Help Out Canadians

OTTAWA, June 18 (CP).—The Canadian government shortly will set up a $10,000,000 war claims fund to pay partial compensation to Canadians who suffered losses or damage by enemy action during the Second World War.

The money will come out of German and Japanese assets held in Canada.

Prime Minister St. Laurent said today in the Commons that the government will move speedily to establish the fund.

After an eight-month study, Chief Justice J. L. Ilsey of the Nova Scotia Supreme Court indicated that the amount of money available will be too small to meet the claims running close to $100,000,000 and there must be certain restrictions on the claims and priorities dealing with financial loss caused by death, maltreatment and property loss.

He noted that if Canadians could get back all the property the Communist countries in Europe confiscated, it would run into hundreds of millions of dollars — enough to pay off all known war claims "several times."

Canada, through the external affairs department, has been working to get compensation for this loss of property in East Germany and other East European countries, but the Communists have refused to pay.

Meat Inspection Lax, Says Health Officer

Oak Bay's public health officer, Dr. James Fiddess, said last night he thought meat slaughtered on Vancouver Island reached retail butcher stores without inspection of any kind.

Dr. Fiddess was asked to look into inspection of the municipality's meat supply some time ago, after council had endorsed a resolution from an Interior B.C. municipality urging a check.

Dr. Fiddess said he has not yet looked into the situation thoroughly, except to confirm that the only inspection of Island-bound meat takes place in Vancouver under federal auspices.

He said there are "gaps" in the federal-provincial meat inspection systems, and that, as far as he was able to find out, Vancouver Island cattle are slaughtered and sent to stores without any kind of inspection.

Reeve P. A. Gibbs asked Dr. Fiddess to continue his investigation.

Provincial Agriculture Minister Harry Bowman and B.C. livestock commissioner Dr. W. R. Gunn could not be reached for comment late last night.

Cobalt Bombs for Cancer

Ailing Mother To Be Met at Airport

BY FRANK MEADE

A high-priority R.C.A.F. transport plane is expected to land at Patricia Bay airport today with a Central Saanich mother, home from cancer treatments in London, Ont.

Waiting will be her husband, John Lewis, a sheet metal worker at H.M.C.S. Dockyard; three of her four children, and scores of her neighbors, who think Mrs. Florence Lewis is a "remarkable woman" and who dipped deeply into their pockets to send her East.

The Lewis family moved into their home on Central Saanich Road from Victoria about three years ago.

After the dread disease was diagnosed, Mrs. Lewis in her early 40's, spent more than a year and a half in and out of hospital.

ONLY HOPE

Finally, the only hope was cobalt bomb treatments at the Ontario centre.

Her neighbors early in April organized a benefit dance in the Brentwood Community Hall; held a raffle, and raised more than $350 for her trip.

Her speedy return on the transport plane has the aura of a miracle.

Her brother, W.O. Ernest Hepworth, a Korean veteran, posted at Central Ordnance Depot in London, was worried when doctors said Mrs. Lewis should get home as quickly and easily as possible. Fastest transportation would take four days.

His padre, Major H. A. Merkling, saw his station commanding officer, who reached R.C.A.F. Transport Command.

FLIGHT AUTHORIZED

Transport command authorized the flight, and Mrs. Lewis, accompanied by Hepworth, took off from Crumlin airport yesterday.

The Lewis family consists of Walter, in his early 20's, believed serving in the Canadian army in northern Manitoba; Jack, a teenage son at home; Douglas, about 12 years old, and five-year-old Linda.

Mrs. Carl Pederson, a neighbor of the Lewises, said last night that the ailing woman is highly regarded in the community for her cheerfulness and fortitude under the onslaught of the disease.

"She is truly a remarkable woman," Mrs. Pederson said.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

"That kid was stealing money from the box. That one over there by the bike."

A wide-eyed small boy with blond hair ran up to me and breathlessly imparted this news as I strolled along Douglas Street in the sunshine toward the office.

I looked in the direction of the "Honest John" newspaper dispenser, which offers the Colonist for sale and trusts to luck that people will drop a coin in the slot. By tilting and shaking the box it is possible for larcenous small boys to extract coins.

But which small boy was guilty? Several youngsters stood around, looking equally furtive. The bicycle was an uncertain landmark. I saw several bicycles. Anyway, what was I supposed to do? I wasn't a policeman.

* * *

I walked toward the children. They started to move, some walking and some running. I followed them for a few steps, then stopped and scratched my head. Those who were running also slowed down and went on their leisurely way, glancing back over their shoulders now and then. I stared at them with what I thought was a stern expression. They stared blankly back.

Then, for some reason I can't understand, I ran towards them. Nearly all of them ran, too. They dropped off, one after another, and stood looking—all except one little fellow who pelted on as fast as he could go, rounding the corner by the drug store and along Kings Road.

I ran after him with long strides, feeling like a bully and a fool.

* * *

A few feet along Kings Road, the little boy saw me stepping along almost within reach of him. He turned aside into someone's front yard, backed up against a tree and stood looking at me for a moment, a tiny fellow about two feet high, with smudges on his clothes.

Then his face contorted and he began to weep, and he emptied out his pockets, showering down nickels and pennies in the long grass. I bent to pick them up, panting slightly. If I had not been obsessed with the importance of money, I would have spoken to him before I started picking up the coins. As I started to say something, he lit out down the street again, with terror in his face.

I finished picking up the coins, with the aid of the other lads, who had arrived by now.

"We want some money," one of them said.

"Yes, but that's not the way to get it," I said. "You have to work for it." I felt a twinge of remorse for not driving the lesson home to the small thief. Perhaps I wasn't sure I was telling the truth. One of those quick-reacting friendly uncle types would have given the lad a long, kindly but firm talk—but I had to fumble it.

"If he keeps taking money, he'll get in real trouble," I said to the lads. "You tell him that, will you?"" One boy said he would pass on the message. I doubt if he understood it.

* * *

How many criminals, I wondered, are basically small boys running down the street with a pocket full of petty coins, needing only the right person to steer them straight? I handed the money to one of the boys from the circulation office.

Back in the news room, I told a colleague what had happened.

"How much did you get?" he asked.

Mayor, Health Minister To Open Victoria Health Centre Tuesday

Health and Welfare Minister Douglas Turnbull and Mayor Claude Harrison will preside at the official opening of the new city health and welfare building Tuesday at 3 p.m.

Architect C. D. Stockdill will present the key to Mr. Turnbull who will in turn pass it on to Ald. Mrs. Margaret Christie, chairman of the Union Board of Health and city's social welfare committee.

Officials of the centre will serve tea and conduct a tour of the new building. Among the guests will be municipal reeves, aldermen, hospital heads, school board officials and representatives of provincial and federal health and welfare departments.

The next day—Wednesday, June 25—the general public has been invited to attend an "Open House" from 2.30 p.m. to 4.30 p.m. and in the evening from 7.30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The program will include displays, exhibits, demonstrations and films of public health work.

Week in London Full of Pageantry

BY L. BULLOCK-WEBSTER

This week in London has been full of pageantry. At the Trooping of the Color ceremony June 5, Her Majesty took the salute at the Queen's Birthday Parade.

Fortunately the rain kept off. The Queen in a scarlet tunic with a blue riband of the Garter and a tricorne cocked hat, mounted side-saddle on Winston, the handsome police horse, always well behaved on previous occasions, looked very dignified and splendid.

On this occasion, Winston in a very handsome ornamented bridle, martingale and bridle and saddle cloth, became fidgety.

It looked to me as if his girth was a bit too tight. Anyhow he backed out of position and had to be coaxed and led back.

Her Majesty was not in the least put out, or if she was she did not show it. Her escort, the Household Cavalry, was glittering and gorgeous as always. The Duke of Gloucester, colonel of the Scots Guards, rode in attendance to Her Majesty.

Then there was the Royal Tournament at Earls Court with an audience of over 12,000.

The highlight, or star turn this year is the thrilling spectacle of an assault party of commando raiders leaping out of landing craft and dashing straight up the face of an almost perpendicular plaster cliff 85 feet high.

It looked as if there was no [illegible] but I am informed that there are little niches two and a half inches deep, irregularly placed.

The "human fly" who used to climb, clutching and creeping up the outside of the bank building on View Street before he was finally killed in the States, had nothing that these lads haven't got. Their courage, strength, daring, endurance and nerve are amazing.

The supposed objective of this climb is an enemy fort on the top of the cliff. The heights of Abraham looked like an easy escalator in comparison with this cliff.

BRADFORD, Eng. (CP)—For years retired business man Sam Barker wondered what had happened to the three-year-old boy he saved from drowning in 1902. Now, in reply to an advertisement, he has a letter from railway official Hector Williamson, who identified himself as the rescued one.

Bulldozer Tracks Stolen Up-Island

Theft of 15 bulldozer tracks, valued at about $1,500, from a department of agriculture building on the Island Highway near Cumberland, has been reported to the R.C.M.P. A padlock had been cut to gain entry, police stated. It is believed a car or small truck was used to haul the tracks away.

U.S. Authorities Admit Violation

BERLIN, June 18 (Reuters)—United States authorities admitted today an American plane last month violated the air flight regulations of the corridors linking Berlin and West Germany. In a letter to the Soviets, Maj-Gen. Lemuel Mathewson said a C-47 on a routine medical evacuation flight strayed accidentally from the corridor.

More Than 1,500 Due For Summer School

Between 1,500 and 1,600 students will attend this year's summer school of education in three Greater Victoria schools.

Summer school director F. H. Johnson said yesterday that enrollment will probably level off at about 1,600 when sessions start on July 2. They will continue until August 1.

Mr. Johnson said enrollment is up over last year by about 1,000 students.

Victoria High School; classrooms in the F. T. Fairey Technical unit, and some in the Spring Ridge School will be used by the registered teachers, from all over British Columbia.

University of British Columbia and Vancouver Technical School will also be used for classes.

Re Chlorophyll Preparations

Specially prepared chlorophyll has proved to be effective in stopping body odor and bad breath, but do not be misled by confusing advertising. Properly prepared chlorophyll should not contain a dye that turns a glass of water a dark green, leaves a stain in your mouth, on towels or anything that it touches. Chlorophyll candy mints and chewing gum will not stop body odor or bad breath arising from the stomach.

VOIDS Tablets, Canada's first low-priced and leading chlorophyll deodorant tablet, may be taken in two ways: (1) Chewed, to neutralize the odor of food and drink and (2) swallowed to stop body odor head to toe and bad breath of stomach origin.

Void's FLURADENE, the Fluorinated Toothpaste with Chlorophyll, is another important "first" in Canada. Sold only by registered druggists, it contains not one but the two most-talked-about ingredients for oral hygiene in the world—Chlorophyll and Fluoride. It is not a soap product.

Both VOIDS Tablets and FLURADENE are sold by your druggist under an unconditional money-back offer.

Red Actions in Baltic Stir Up Hornet's Nest

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

BY J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
A.P. News Analyst

The Russians have stirred up a hornet's nest for themselves in Scandinavia by their latest display of jealousy for the secrets of their military preparations in the Baltic.

No new evidence was needed of Russia's disregard for the conventions of civilized conduct between people and countries. But the shooting down of a Swedish plane has produced new evidence on two points.

One, the spiritual position of Sweden regarding the east-west conflict, sometimes obscured by her stubborn clutch on the neutralism which has kept her out of war for more than 100 years, is made clear.

Second, we are newly reminded of the danger of war developing through pure error when international conditions are so strained as at present. Denmark re-emphasied orders issued weeks ago to its airmen to shoot to kill if attacked by Russian planes. Denmark, unlike Sweden, is a member of the North Atlantic pact. If she shoots to kill, and the Russians retaliate, the Western powers are bound to consider whatever happens as happening to all of them.

Sweden has reacted bitterly against the plane incident which, with the now proverbial Russian affinity for acting at just the right time to create sentiment against herself, coincides with the prosecution in Sweden of a Communist spy ring much like the one broken up in Canada several years ago.

The two affairs have brought long-suppressed Swedish hatred of Russia boiling to the surface.

I don't think there has been much doubt among westerners as to where Sweden stood all the time. If she could stay out of any war she would do so. But if she were to be involved willy-nilly, she would be with the western allies.

Sweden ranks with Yugoslavia and Switzerland among the best armed countries in Europe for their size.

For Russia to push Sweden toward active co-operation with the anti-Communist coalition is foolishness of the first order.

Yet it is only a relatively minor piece of foolishness in the long list of things she has done to mobilize the free world against her.

The terrifying question is whether, one day, she will finally do something that pulls the trigger for the war that nobody wants.

Indians Visit Parliament With Meeting Requests

OTTAWA, June 18 (CP).—A band of Indians descended on Parliament Hill today but there were no war whoops and only the odd feather here and there.

The delegation from the North American Indian Brotherhood presented a strictly modern front as it came to make requests to the government.

In a 45-minute closed conference they asked that the government consider appointing Indians to the Senate. They also wanted loans to be made available to Indians so they can build houses or set up businesses.

Andrew Paull of Vancouver, president of the brotherhood which claims to represent 60,000 of the country's 140,000 Indians, said Mr. Harris gave them "a very good reception."

The brotherhood's requests stemmed mainly from resolutions endorsed at the annual meeting of 150 brotherhood delegates now going on here.

The Indians also asked:

That band funds, controlled mainly by the government, be released to meet the cost of any court action taken by or brought against Indians;

That Canada's Indians be declared solely under the jurisdiction of the federal government and not subject to provincial laws.

That the government restore to the Indians or compensate them for "all lands that have been arbitrarily alienated" and that no lands be taken without the consent of the Indian band concerned.

U.S. Potatoes Plentiful

SEATTLE, June 18 (AP)—Wholesalers here say the "potato famine" is over.

One commented: "We're begging customers to buy potatoes now."

An influx of shipments has ended the shortage that existed in the U.S. Northwest for several weeks.

Canada Compiling Surplus in Trade

OTTAWA, June 18 (CP).—Canada recorded a $110,000,000 foreign trade surplus during the first four months of the year as exports rolled to peak levels and imports slipped from last year's figure.

The Bureau of Statistics, compiling the final foreign-trade bulletin for April, estimated the month's surplus at $26,700,000—the fourth straight favorable balance for 1952 and the eighth straight surplus since last September.

Favorable balances compared with a deficit of $92,900,000 during April, 1951, and a total deficit for the first four months last year of $217,100,000.

Exports for the month climbed to $350,600,000 from $300,000,000 pushing the four-month total to $1,350,000,00 from $1,120,000,000.

Imports declined to $324,000,000 from $393,000,000 for the month, paring the four-month total to $1,240,100,000 from $1,336,900,000.

The big feature of the 1952 trend was a sharp boost in shipments to the United Kingdom and an increase in Canada's favorable balance with that country.

Exports to the U.K. rose to $71,300,000 during April from $41,800,000, boosting the four-month figure to $227,000,000 from $155,400,000.

Imports slipped to $28,400,000 from $48,900,000, cutting total four-month shipments to Canada to $96,600,000 from $141,100,000.

Council Power Set Back By Grain Men

OTTAWA, June 18 (CP)—Western grain men won out today in a move to prevent the government from obtaining powers to make emergency regulations under the Canada Grain Act through order-in-council.

Trade Minister Howe asked the Commons Agricultural Committee to eliminate a proposed change in the Act which would have given the government those powers.

He said objections have been raised by Saskatchewan and Manitoba wheat pools on the ground that the section allegedly invaded the farmers' charter. For that reason, said Mr. Howe, the government feels it should not force the issue.

The committee agreed to eliminate the section and to approve other changes in the Act including salary boosts for the Board of Grain Commissioners.

The bill provides for a boost for Chief Commissioner D. G. McKenzie to $14,000 a year from $12,000. Salaries of two commissioners are increased to $12,000 from $10,000.

The number of assistant commissioners which can be appointed under the Act is reduced to three from four.

Alberta Collects Another $60,000

EDMONTON, June 18 (CP)—The Alberta government today announced it received $60,335 from a sale here yesterday of oil and gas reservations in Central Alberta.

Biggest purchaser was George H. Galloway, representing Stanolin Oil and Gas Co., who paid $49,000 for a parcel near Buck Lake. Two parcels in the Coronation region brought $3,092 from California Tetitot Co. and $8,243 from Phillips Petroleum Co.

Oil Shipment Halted

ADEN, June 18 (Reuters).—The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company's dispute with Iran came to a head today when a British court slapped an injunction on the cargo of an Italian tanker.

The 640-ton Rose Mary and its cargo of 1,000 tons of Iranian crude oil will have to remain at this British Crown colony until the supreme court here decides who the oil belongs to—the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company or Iran.

The cargo is the first to be exported by Iran since the government of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh ousted the British-owned company and nationalized Iranian oil last year.

The injunction was given to the Rose Mary's skipper, Giuseppe Jafrate, a few hours after the ship had battered her way into port through rough seas.

The ship, flying the flag of Honduras but owned by the Teresita Company of Italy, arrived here last night.

Jafrate said that when the Rose Mary neared Aden the ship's owners instructed him to put in "although I did not require anything at the port."

The injunction, granted on the application of the oil company, states that Jafrate and the local agent for the owners will be called before the supreme court tomorrow. The agent must show cause why the injunction should not continue until a final court decision on ownership is reached.

Anglo-Iranian, supported by the British government which owns 51 per cent of its stock, contends Iran acted illegally in nationalizing the industry.

Striker Goes Across Line

VANCOUVER, June 18 (CP).—A striking carpenter today was allowed to cross his own picket line.

He was granted union permission to work on installation of an X-ray unit in the new British Columbia Cancer Institute Building.

The building, now nearing completion, is one of those strike-bound in the present construction industry tie-up.

"We allowed it on humanitarian grounds," said President Dave Janzen of the carpenters' union.

British Parliament Hears African Merger Proposal

LONDON, June 18 (Reuters)—The government today placed before Parliament a scheme to merge three central African territories into one federal state of about 500,000 square miles, roughly the size of Quebec province.

A conference to establish the state, rich in grasslands and minerals, is expected to be held in October. The three territories involved are Nyasaland and Northern Rhodesia, both protectorates, and Southern Rhodesia, largely independent.

The government pledges itself to safeguard the rights of the 6,350,000 Africans living in the region by proposing the creation of an African affairs board with power to refer any white-versus-black dispute to London.

The Africans, who oppose the scheme, fear that federation will give the whip hand to the 200,000 Europeans—"a mere handful"—living in the three territories.

Presenting the scheme in the House of Lords, Lord Salisbury, Commonwealth relations secretary, said it offers the "framework of a new political organism" which would promote the welfare of all three territories.

The government also proposes that matters concerning the day-to-day life of the Africans should remain the responsibility of the territorial governments.

Native suspicion of European motives is based on three fears—the possible loss of land rights, delays in their political education and the introduction of restrictive race practices such as already exist in Southern Rhodesia.

But with industry and agriculture efficiently run, the state could have a wave of prosperity. Copper, gold and chrome lie beneath the ground. Tea and tobacco grow well in the pleasant, not-too-warm climate.

The 500,000-square mile area was first exploited by Cecil Rhodes, power-seeking British Empire builder, towards the end of the last century. The British government took over in 1923.

Employees Criticized By Coast Hotelman

CALGARY, June 18 (CP).—The main trouble in the hotel industry is that many employees are not capable or responsible, Vancouver Hotelman J. E. Bengert said today at the annual meeting of the Hotel Association of Western Canada.

First item on the agenda discussed by delegates from the four western provinces was proposed licensing of hotel employees.

Mr. Bengert said that employees should be well acquainted with the current liquor regulations, because the manager could not always be present. Many employees were sent from the trades unions with no knowledge of the liquor regulations.

He said bartenders and beer parlor employees should be required to pass examinations at intervals and certainly before employment. In the event of misconduct, an employee should be tried by a representative of the liquor control board, the union and the Hotel Association.

Charles Tanner of Winnipeg said that beer waiters were already licensed in Manitoba, which was a good thing.

A. G. Swinarton of Fort Macleod said that the Alberta association regarded licencing of waiters with disfavor, because it was opposed to any form of regimentation in the industry. A good manager should be capable of handling his own employees. The Alberta association did, however, believe in a system of employee education within the industry.

Delegates passed a resolution that provincial directors should appoint one representative from each province to sit under the chairmanship of the association president to discuss the whole question of licensing of employees in the near future.

Nations Join War On Cattle Plague

PARIS, June 18 (Reuters)—Fifty-two governments have decided to buckle down to the task of beating the scourge of foot-and-mouth disease, now rampant in Europe and increasing in other parts of the world.

All governments are members of the International Animal Disease control office which recently held a conference here attended by 100 delegates.

The conference spent most of its time discussing the plague, which spreads swiftly among cloven-footed beasts, particularly hitting cows and reducing the milk production.

The conference recommended first the creation of a laboratory to deal specifically with the disease and this proposal now is being studied by member governments.

Task of the laboratory would be preparation of sample serums and the drafting of a "standard" method of diagnosis.

Other recommendations by the conference were:

1. Special precautions should be taken in handling vaccine viruses—a "two-edged weapon" which, while being used to defeat the disease, may also lead to further infection through negligent use.

2. Vaccination formulae should not be modified without the advice of I.A.D.C.O.

3. Every country should set up foot-and-mouth disease research centres.

Prof. Gaston Ramon, director of I.A.D.C.O., said the choice between slaughtering or treatment of infected animals would be left to individual governments.

Ramon soon will make arrangements to hold this year's session of the technical research council of I.A.D.C.O. in Copenhagen.

The council of 15 members will meet in September and will discuss, first and foremost, new ways of obtaining foot-and-mouth disease vaccines.

At present vaccines are obtained from the tongues of special breeds of live cattle injected with the virus. But the council will discuss a new system of broth-culture, easier to manage and with a greater yield.

The council also will examine ways of producing new kinds of vaccine. The kinds at present in use show signs in some places of losing their effectiveness.

Ramon hopes that Russia will be a member of the council. "The council's work should interest her as much as anyone else," he said.

TONBRIDGE, Eng. (CP)—Festival week in this old Kent county town included revival of a colorful prewar river pageant, with 20 illuminated showboats parading along the River Medway.

Oddities

EDMONTON, June 18 (CP).—A caretaker for the Canadian National Railways' downtown ticket office reported a large plate-glass window loose the other day. It isn't loose tonight—it's not there.

A motorist, who claimed his brakes failed, crashed over the sidewalk and into the corner of the building, fixing all the looseness in the plate-glass window.

DARMSTADT, Germany, June 18 (Reuters).—Unknown taxpayers bricked the main entrance of the tax collector's office here in a pre-dawn operation today.

The bricks were taken from a nearby construction site where a note was left saying:

"The bricks were not stolen, they went the way of all earthly goods to the tax collector."

The Export Market

Of all the provinces in Canada probably British Columbia is the most sensitive to the ebb and flow of trade in world markets. That is because our primary industries have been built chiefly on the sale of heavy export surpluses, and the domestic market cannot at any time account for even 25 per cent of these products. That is especially true of forest products, base metals, fish, and some if not many forms of farm produce. What with wars and their aftermaths there has been only a limited revival of world trade in those overseas markets in which British Columbia industry used to sell most readily. This in turn has led to a disposition at home to look for a package deal, for the quick sale of bulk surpluses to relieve immediate pressure. One corollary has been neglect of the home market.

This could be instanced in many ways but a typical one is the present condition of British Columbia salmon fisheries. British Columbia fish canners this week at Ottawa have made no secret of the difficulty they are facing. Some 700,000 cases of the salmon packed last year have not yet been sold, exclusive of other stocks in the hands of distributors. The new salmon season is about to open. British Columbia meanwhile has lost the United Kingdom market on which it counted heavily in former years. It is in competition with American outlets for the same product without any assurance that overseas markets will, or even could improve much during the course of this year. A $350,000 advertising campaign to interest the domestic market in Canada produced some but insufficient results, according to the packers.

Some might question the efficacy of the domestic sales effort while the B.C. product sells for 41 cents a tin in Ontario and as much as 53 cents a tin at home in British Columbia. Home sales, however, are not the remedy for the British Columbia surplus. No significant degree of development of the home market can take place hurriedly. A 10-year campaign might help, and certainly the neglect of a domestic market has never paid any premiums yet. On the other hand British Columbia by the very nature of its primary industries is geared to a world market, and unfortunately there the real rub comes. The very factors which have given inflation such a head here have priced B.C. goods out of open, competitive markets overseas in those few countries which still have trading balances with which to buy. Add currency restrictions to that and one can understand the dilemma facing B.C. exporters. Nor will there be any sudden cure.

Mr. Gardiner, Meet Mr. Howe

TRADE Minister Howe's pronouncements in Ottawa this week on federal policy on wheat prices indicate another astonishing conflict of opinion between Agriculture Minister Gardiner and himself. These two ministers of the same government have publicly disagreed on matters of policy in the past. Now they show themselves to be poles apart on the issue of governmental price supports for primary products.

As minister in charge of wheat policy Mr. Howe informed the Commons committee on agriculture that the Dominion government would not tax Canadian consumers to provide a bonus for western wheat farmers. The Farmers' Union Council had urged the government to separate the domestic price for wheat from the fixed international price so that prices at home could be allowed to rise. Mr. Howe's reply was that this would mean the people of Canada would be charged a higher price than that paid for Canadian wheat by the people of Japan or some other other country.

Yet this is precisely what the Dominion government is doing right now in the case of meat, under Mr. Gardiner's price prop scheme and the three-way barter negotiated to help dispose of beef denied entry to the United States on account of the foot-and-mouth disease outbreak in Saskatchewan. Canada could not export this so-called surplus (which the domestic market could easily have absorbed if Mr. Gardiner had not interfered) at rates ruling in the United States. The government, however, had guaranteed boom prices to the cattle industry; so Canadian taxpayers have to underwrite the loss on the deal, estimated for one year at $15,000,000 or more. At the same time they are being charged higher prices than those which the exported "surplus" will fetch overseas.

When the wheat farmers try to have this principle extended to their case, Mr. Howe condemns it; and we heartily agree with him. A government cannot speak with two voices however. If the principle rejected by Mr Howe is wrong for wheat it is wrong for meat. The government cannot retain any vestige of consistency until it throws Mr Gardiner's misbegotten meat price policy out of the window.

A Felicitous Project

THE Victoria branch of the Native Sons of British Columbia is to be commended for the study it is giving to the idea of a memorial to the late King. Invitations have been sent out to service clubs and other organizations in this area to attend a meeting at which the proposal may be discussed and advanced. It would be felicitous if such a project could be brought to fruition.

When this newspaper commented last month on the national memorial being arranged in Great Britain and suggested that something along similar lines would be a happy venture for Canada it had in mind a project on an equal national basis. The lasting regard for the fine man who walked among his Canadian subjects, and who was universally esteemed throughout this broad land, could not be given better visible expression, we thought, than by the erection or development of some kind of memorial.

A national recognition of King George would still be extremely apposite, but that does not detract in any degree from the enthusiasm displayed by the Native Sons for a local memorial. Such a project would doubtless be in keeping with the scope of its location, and certainly no more gracious site for such a purpose exists in all of Canada than this city or its environs.

Now that the idea has been taken up one trusts it will receive generous support and the willing help of other organizations. It would be a distinct honor for Victoria to engage in such an undertaking, and one that would reflect credit on all those who associated themselves with it. Nothing could become this city more than to show its regard for the monarch who was not only a king but a kingly man.

After Rearmament

(From The Halifax Chronicle-Herald)

SIR DAVID KELLY, former British Ambassador to Moscow, has recently been outlining his views in the British press on Russia and what the West ought to do about the cold war. He reiterates that Moscow still firmly believes in the coming universal revolution and the unavoidable clash between the communistic and the capitalistic worlds.

Yet, he is not discouraged. His policy, curtly stated, is that the West should "practice flexible diplomacy and keep its powder dry." By this he means that the West should first of all make itself so strong militarily as to discourage attack; it should make its defensive intentions thoroughly clear to Russia, and give positive assistance to those countries where revolution might most easily be stirred up.

* * *

Yet, after all this has been accomplished—when the West has employed faith and hope in itself, and achieved parity—what remains to be done? An answer is offered by a well-known internationalist, Don Salvador de Madariaga: that there must be no relaxation of defense efforts on the part of the West. Any such relaxation or complacency, he claims, would encourage the Reds at least to stage localized Communist "revolutions," which the Kremlin would think worth while because of our known fear of provoking a full-scale war. He advises a more pessimistic attitude—that the West should not so much hope for the best, but prepare for the worst, watching for any manifestations of nationalism within the Communist world of which the West might take due advantage.

The West may be cynically convinced that no one can win a modern war. Yet Western policy could be more dynamic. The Kremlin has never been infallible. Its tactics have changed more than once since 1945. The West should strive to gain such tactical victories as might again alter the over-all picture and cause Russia to change her own general strategy.

* * *

Stalinist principles lay it down that capitalistic society will inevitably destroy itself. The West might negate these principles by improving industrial relationships; by avoiding conflicts between Western countries over markets, tariffs and the distribution of raw materials, and by tackling in a forthright manner the problems of the undeveloped peoples of the still free world. If the West can, in such ways, change the general pattern of world affairs, it might entirely upset current Communist programs.

The West, therefore, has four principal points to bear in mind. Re-armament must be kept up-to-date, and enthusiasm for defense must not decline. The Soviet theories of world revolution and of a capitalistic collapse must be demonstrated to be false. While war must not be provoked, the West must let Moscow realize she will not flinch from it, if forced upon her.

Lastly, the West must attain a far greater solidarity, both politically and economically, than she enjoys at present. To concentrate exclusively on military re-armament, while neglecting diplomatic, economic and political channels of close collaboration, will mean nothing but a sheer waste of time, money and material.

"You know, this isn't just for you personally."

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

A REPORT from Korean waters says that sailors aboard the Athabaskan want a new type of headgear. Since the present saucy round cap has been synonymous with the navy as long as most of us can remember this is a revolutionary request.

Two reasons are cited as warrant for the change: The cap isn't distinctively Canadian, and it is uncomfortable.

The first of these cannot be shrugged off lightly. It revives the complaints made in 1949 to the Mainguy Commission by naval ratings vehement in their demands that they be identified as Canadians. As a result the commission in its report recommended the "Canada" shoulder badges now worn, in the belief that "even the most ignorant member of another race can probably read the word Canada."

* * *

Apparently this is not so, and Canadian sailors in U.S. ports are still being taken for British sailors. The Athabaskans are proud enough to be in the tradition of the Royal Navy, they say, but they're Canadians and they want to be spotted as such right away.

This is a perfectly legitimate desire. No one worth his salt likes to be identified as somebody else.

Two alternatives are suggested by the complainants, the soft tasseled cap worn by the Dutch, and the beret. But these would cancel themselves out for a similar reason—they are not distinctive either. If the sailors don't want to be taken for British I shouldn't imagine they would like to be taken for Dutchmen, or Frenchmen, for French sailors wear a beret.

Something entirely new would have to be designed.

I must say I'm surprised by the comfort argument. It is said the hard round cap falls off too easily, hurts the head, and makes sailors bald.

Heads must be changing their shape, surely.

* * *

One of the minor miracles over the years has been the aplomb with which sailors stick their caps on the back of their heads, at an angle rivalled only by the tilt of milady's bonnet over an eyebrow. I don't think I ever saw a sailor's hat fall off; certainly I've seen very few bald sailors.

However, I have never worn a round sailor's cap and maybe it does chaff the scalp.

The Athabaskans have another complaint; they would like to do away with the ribbon that says "H.M.C.S." Americans think this also means Royal Navy.

Now we're going a bit too far, surely. The Canadian Navy is the Queen's navy—just as much as is the Royal Navy, and by this time, "H.M.C.S." stands for something on its own merit. It would hardly do to throw these initials out just because Americans can't differentiate.

After all there is a limit to what can be done to make things easy for foreign nationals; and the Canadian Navy doesn't really dress for the convenience of others. It is right and proper I think that Canadian sailors should wear distinguishing features that will identify them as themselves, but that's not quite the same thing as going overboard on the subject.

I feel sure all the nice girls who love sailors like them very much as they are.

Reports From Ottawa

IN Parliament's Red Chamber sit the only M.P.'s unruffled by last week's Grit and Tory fiascoes in the West. The days when they worried about elections are past. Now they take a philosophical view. As one Liberal senator observed brightly:

"Sure makes you wonder where the country's going, don't it?"

Among the Liberal members of the Commons, feelings ranged from the smug self-satisfaction of those from the solidly Liberal Maritimes to the bitter snarl of a British Columbia M.P.:

"We got a bunch of cultus so-and-so's out there on the Coast. They got it coming to them!"

The eastern Progressive Conservatives didn't take the British Columbia result too much to heart. Their regret at P.C. losses was largely overshadowed by their delight at the double shellacking the Liberals took in Saskatchewan and British Columbia.

The C.C.F. members naturally are jubilant; the Social Crediters not too unhappy. Only the federal Liberals, looking forward to a general election, found nothing in the provincial pattern to bring them cheer.

* * *

Those hoping for some amelioration of their party's lot in the second count under the alternative voting system used in British Columbia for the first time last week got no encouragement from Ottawa's expert on balloting, chief electoral officer Nelson Castonguay.

The way the second count operates is that when there are three or more candidates in a riding and the first count fails to give one of them a clear majority, the "second choices" marked by the voters on the ballots of the low man are counted and distributed among the leading candidates until one gets a majority.

In his testimony before the Commons committee on the Elections Act last year, Castonguay pointed out that in 12 general elections in Alberta and Manitoba between 1926 and 1949, only 10 candidates leading on the first count were upset on the second count.

Assuming that British Columbia voters run true to the Prairie pattern, Castonguay's statistics mean the second count a fortnight hence isn't likely to affect the C.C.F.'s plurality very much—or the first count standings of the other parties.

* * *

The reason second count upsets are infrequent is the practice of "plumping". When a voter marks only his first choice on his ballots, and not his second and third choices, he is plumping—making sure that if his man is beaten, his vote won't be used to elect anyone else.

In second and third counts in Manitoba and Alberta over the years, more than half of the low men's first-choice ballots have been thrown out because the voters plumped. By failing to designate their alternative choices, the voters not only "lost their votes," but helped to defeat the purpose of the alternative voting system.

That purpose is to bring about fairer representation of the people's political opinions, and to prevent the election of candidates by minority votes.

But according to Castonguay, more than half of the candidates elected in Alberta and Manitoba on second and third counts have been minority candidates elected because of plumping.

Odd Omission

From The Ottawa Journal

"THE Government of Canada—How It Functions" is the caption of a large chart being sent out from Ottawa, presumably with official blessing. The chart portrays the several departments of government, the various commissions, committees, boards and Crown companies. At its top is depicted the governor-general, and of equal status below are the "legislative," "executive" and "judicial" branches of government.

An odd ommission from this chart is its failure to show that the executive, which of course is the cabinet, is in any way responsible to Parliament. Indeed, if one were to rely on this chart to discover the real place or power of Parliament he would have to conclude that that once august body had jurisdiction only over its library.

Many people have been lamenting that Parliament has lost its prestige, a great deal of its authority. This is the first time, however, that we have seen this melancholy claim in the positive form of a chart—the fact advanced definitely that the only useful purpose served by a general election in this country is to accord the voters an opportunity to choose an unwieldy board of directors for the library of Parliament.

OVERLOOKED

We have been waiting for a long while now for some misguided humorist to come out with a story that would go something like this:

Mr. Henpecked: My wife was quarantined today.

Friend: What's she got?

Mr. H.: Foot-and-mouth disease.

F.: Don't be silly. Only cloven-footed beasts get that.

Mr. H.: I know.

But so far none of the jokesters has brought it out. It's not that they are above such a thing. Perhaps they just haven't thought of looking in such a serious corner for something facetious.

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

IT'S a good thing to remember that human nature was designed in a much more leisurely age than this. Scientists have calculated that the sheer mechanical acceleration of life has increased more in the lifetime of this generation than it has increased in all the rest of time. And they are figuring that in the next 15 years it will prob-

Some of our more liverish philosophers hold the view that human nature won't be able to keep up with the speed of life. They suggest that it won't be an atom bomb or even a super-war that will demolish the human race. We will merely blow our own tops. Our own speed will burst us.

Science may not have sufficiently noticed the fact, however, that there are large sections of the human race who are entirely unaffected by the raging haste of our time. They are to be found not only in country villages but in down-town department stores. You will meet considerable numbers of easy-going folk not only in the backwoods but on your way to work right here in town. One of the most curious experiences of everyday life is that when you are in a hurry, everybody else seems to be going slow. And when you are inclined to dawdle along and take your time, everybody else appears to be in a hurry.

It is quite true, as our heavy-duty thinkers point out, that the basic characteristics of human nature were formulated over the past several thousand years in which any speed faster than that of a horse was unknown. The pace of mankind, through most of the past 3,000 years, has been three miles an hour, which he did on foot. And even that rate is excessive; because from what we know of human nature, we must confess that the average human being did not keep on walking all through history at three miles an hour. No; he stopped and paused and dawdled along the way, to look at the sky or the flowers, or to lie down on a grassy bank for a snooze. Let those who care to, go whizzing; there always will remain enough to carry on the species who belong to the authentic natural breed.

Antique Fair

By SYLVIA SHORT, From London

SUPERB works of art by past masters of their craft, valued at something like $12,000,000, are to be seen at the antique dealers' fair which has just opened here. This fair is the twelfth of its kind and is a centre of attraction for visitors from all over the world, including many famous collectors and connoisseurs.

As in other years, some of the choicest pieces in this fair have been lent by members of the Royal Family. Queen Mary, a noted authority on antiques and patron of the fair, has lent a gold-enameled snuffbox of the period of Louis XVI.

Queen Elizabeth has lent two exhibits. One is an oblong brass-bound box with the lid, sides and back inlaid with flowers in different woods. The box, which possibly was used as a toilet box, has three compartments, the two side ones having hinged lids inlaid on both sides and the middle compartment having a folding mirror as a top.

The Queen's second loan is a pair of gueridons of silver which are a wonderful example of English workmanship of the last quarter of the 17th century. These were used for holding lights and are three feet, four inches high with the top of the stems engraved with the monogram of Charles II.

The Queen Mother has lent a pair of Ch'ien Lung porcelain models of Pekingese dogs in color and an ormolu elephant with three passengers in the form of an inkstand.

The Duchess of Kent has sent two Louis XV gold snuffboxes to the fair; both large oblong boxes, one enameled with scenes of trees, birds and animals and the other inlaid with tinted stones and mother-of-pearl. Both boxes came from the collection of the late Baron Henri de Rothschild.

With the exception of these Royal loans, everything exhibited at the fair is for sale, and this is one of the attractions that draws hundreds of visitors each year, for though many articles are costly and rare, there always are thousands of lovely antiques well within the purchasing power of persons of moderate means.

No exhibit at the fair must have been made later than 1830 and authenticity must be unquestionable. Every article is examined by experts of one of 16 committees before being placed on the stands.

Ninety antique dealers from London and elsewhere are exhibiting at the fair this year which, in its extent, is unusual of its kind in the world. The objects displayed range from furniture, gold, silver, Sheffield plate, snuffboxes, miniatures, porcelains and pottery, pewter, tapestries, jades, clocks, rare books, maps, carpets, jewels, Greek, Roman, Egyptian and Chinese antiquities, and many other rare and beautiful articles.

Probably the most valuable thing in the fair is a magnificent gold communion vessel designed and presented by Catherine the Great of Russia to a St. Petersburg convent in 1783. It is decorated with 1,350 large diamonds and innumerable smaller stones enclosing cameos and intaglios.

Phone, Electric Service Trenches To Be Provided at Cost in Uplands

Oak Bay municipality will provide trenches for underground telephone and electric service at cost to an Uplands re-subdivision.

Councillors last night devoted the major part of their regular meeting discussing the request that they bear the entire cost of trenches for two blocks, containing about 15 lots, stretching from Musgrave to Heron Streets, directly across from Uplands Park.

Opposition to Oak Bay paying the bill came from Councillor Fred Robinson. Reeve P. A. Gibbs took the long-range view that underground electrification of the property would lead to wiring being buried in the entire municipality.

Request that the municipality foot the bill for about 430 feet of trenches came from Andrew Wright, local representative of Estates Limited, and Uplands Limited, who said that underground wiring in the resubdivision "would in all probability be the initial step towards the abolition of a very outdated system currently used in Greater Victoria."

DISCUSSED PLAN

Mr. Wright said that he, as owner-in-trust of the lots, consulted with B.C. Electric Railway and B.C. Telephone Company officials about the underground installation.

He said he did this because the lots in question were practically treeless, and that pole lines even at the rear of houses would be "most unsightly."

Mr. Wright wrote that the utility systems quoted him a figure of approximately $260 a lot as the cost to install telephone and electric service, if new types of materials and methods of laying cable used in some Eastern cities were used.

Although the $260 a lot quotation is below that originally given, Mr. Wright said that the Uplands companies feel the cost is still too high for them to absorb.

He asked the municipality to consider paying for the trenches and backfillings. If this could be done, he said, the companies would be prepared to contract with the telephone and electric utilities to complete the project.

ONLY ONE AREA

Clr. Robinson thought the plan would benefit only one area and not the whole of Oak Bay, and said he couldn't see why the municipality should have to pay anything.

Reeve Gibbs said he would like to see the municipality's entire electrical system go underground some day, and Municipal Engineer A. S. Musgrave pointed out that if the project "goes over as an experiment," the B.C.E.R. may reduce its installation charges still further.

Mr. Musgrave said that poles installed in the rear of houses in other treeless subdivisions had become a [illegible] for their unsightliness.

(Mr. Wright's letter mentioned that the matter of unsightly poles and wires in Greater Victoria and Oak Bay has "been the subject of strong editorial comment in the local press from time to time.")

Clr. Robinson said: "They will have the advantage when time comes for selling the property. Surely, $10 extra a lot won't kill them."

He suggested the municipality dig the trenches, "and let them pay us."

A resolution was adopted to propose to Mr. Wright that the municipality do the work at cost of wages and machinery.

NO ESTIMATE

No estimate was made of how much this would be.

Council found it was prevented from bearing more than 10 per cent of the cost of installing ornamental street lighting in the Uplands on Lansdowne Road, Uplands Road, Weald Road, Upper Terrace Avenue, and part of Beach Drive.

The work was requested by petition from residents, and cost would run to about $10 a lot a year.

Mr. Musgrave said that all normal overhead street lighting is covered out of general revenue, but "curiously enough, when work is done under the Local Improvement Act, we are limited to absorbing 10 per cent of the cost of street lighting, plus work at street intersections."

Clr. Robinson objected that property owners affected seemed to be fated to pay twice for their lighting, the original system having been installed in 1912.

Reeve Gibbs said that this cost had long since been absorbed indirectly.

Reeve's Road Rocky At By-Law Meeting

"How about the road in front of my place?" Reeve A. C. Wurtele was asked from all sides last night at a meeting of the Esquimalt Ratepayers' Association.

After explaining to the meeting in Esquimalt High School how the $300,000 by-law will be applied to the best advantage of the municipality, the reeve volunteered to answer any questions relating to the by-law that comes before the people on Saturday.

Person after person jumped up wanting to know why the proposed plan to improve Esquimalt didn't include the piece of road immediately in front of his home.

"We tried to plan the new road so that those streets needing it most will be done this year. When that work is complete we are going to try to get the secondary streets done," he said.

One of the questioners invited the reeve to come for a ride down his street after the meeting and see for himself how bad it is.

AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE

"I know how bad some of them are and we are trying to do as much as we can on the money we have," he said.

"We don't even dare walk down our sidewalk," the man said, "because the road is so bad the cars have to go down it to avoid breaking springs."

Asked how large the present municipal debt is at present, the reeve answered by saying that without the school and local improvement plan the municipality owes $218,000.

The new by-law will allow the municipality to replace about eight miles of road and will take two years, the reeve said.

A statement by the reeve that the interest of the loan would be $9,000 a year was challenged when he said the rate was 5 per cent.

"Shouldn't that be $15,000 a year?" he was asked.

CONSIDERABLY LESS

"No, it averages out to $9,000 over the 15-year period of the [illegible] than we spend on road maintenance each year," he answered.

The federal government has been asked to share the cost of repairing Tillicum Road, and the city of Victoria has volunteered to pay half the cost of Dominion Road, one of the Esquimalt boundaries, the reeve said.

"It is a staggering amount of money to ask the people to spend on roads," he said. "But they are badly in need of work and it will cost us a lot less in the future for road repair."

A motion endorsing the by-law was then passed by the association members.

Sewer Preparations Given Green Light

Oak Bay Council last night gave the green light to the Hudson's Bay Company for preparations to put a sewer in the area north of Cedar Hill Cross Road, behind the tier of lots fronting on Cadboro Bay Road.

Municipal Engineer A. S. Musgrave said the company is "looking ahead" to possible housing development, and wants a sewer easement along the north boundary of the municipality.

The company, he said, will pay all costs of acquiring the easement.

He was authorized to make arrangements.

Last night, councilors also accepted "with regret," the resignation of Mrs. Francis E. MacKinnon, public health nurse, who will be married at the end of August.

Municipal nurse for the past seven years, Mrs. MacKinnon's successor has not yet been chosen.

"We are losing an admirable servant of the municipality," said Reeve P. A. Gibbs.

Council turned down a request for a grant from the Victoria Camera Club.

"We have no power to do so, and no money, anyway," said Reeve Gibbs.

Man's Ability Sole Criterion Of Labor

Labor as a whole is only interested in the fact that a man knows his trade, not where he learned it, the John Howard Society in Victoria has been advised by Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.-T.L.C.).

A society member has questioned the council whether trade unions recognize training received by persons in prison. He was told that some unions had certain qualifications but labor as a whole was not interested where a man learned his trade.

It also will be suggested to the society that it check individual unions to obtain their opinions.

Labor Seeks Board Move To Victoria

The provincial apprenticeship board will be asked to move its Vancouver Island officer from Nanaimo to Victoria.

Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) last night endorsed a resolution to that effect. The resolution pointed out that a majority of apprenticeship cases on the Island are in the Victoria area and that improved inspection service could be carried out from here.

Japan Seeks Views On Alaska Pulp Mill

TOKYO, June 18 (Reuters).—United States Embassy officials said today Japan has sounded them out on a plan to set up wood pulp and paper plants in Alaska. In an informal exchange, the embassy replied that it would "entertain" a formal application for a Japanese or Japanese-American company in Alaska, but the plan would have to be taken up with Washington.

Britain Seeks Fuchs' Successor

LONDON, June 18 (AP).—The government advertised today for a successor to Dr. Klaus Fuchs, atomic scientist who turned traitor. The job held by Fuchs—head of the theoretical physics division of the atomic research laboratory at Harwell—pays £1,775 a year. Fuchs is serving a 14-year prison term.

City Council To Discuss Vehicle Operation Costs

A report by City Manager Cecil Wyatt on the question of city-owned vehicle costs will be among the items discussed today at a special meeting of city council.

A detailed survey has been made by the manager on mileage payment and the cost of operating city vehicles.

Also to be discussed is the future development of Thetis Lake Park following a second application by the B.C. Automotive Sports Association for a race track on the property.

Council had already granted the request and later reconsidered after protests from residents in the area.

BROAD POLICY

Chairman of the public works committee, Ald. Percy Scurrah, felt the council should decide on a "broad policy" for the Thetis area before making any new decision on the race track.

Council will review also the matter of parking meter collections in the light of the recent arrest and conviction of a city employee found guilty of stealing coins during colections.

Mr. Wyatt will submit a report on this question also.

The report will outline a suggested plan to have an outside firm do the collections.

The meeting has also been called to consider temporary help for the legal department, left short-handed because of the present illness of City Solicitor Arthur Patton.

Seed Grower's Rites Friday

Funeral service for Fred Barnes, 66, pioneer seed grower and poultryman of Saanich who died Monday, will be held from McCall's Funeral Home Friday at 3 p.m. Burial will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Mr. Barnes was born in Lancashire, and had lived in Saanich 42 years. Although he was a stone mason by trade, he established a Canadian record for growing mangles, with a production in 1923 of 74 tons, 800 pounds to an acre.

Hhe is survived by his widow; a daughter, Mrs. R. W. Wilkes, Alert Bay; two sons, Sidney and Ralph, Victoria; and two brothers in England.

Phillips Funeral Set Here Today

Services for Mrs. Kate Phillips, resident of Esquimalt for 50 years, who died Monday in hospital, will be held today at 1.30 p.m. in Hayward's Funeral Home. Rev. J. A. Roberts will officiate and burial will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Mrs. Phillips was born in Lincolnshire, England, and came to Victoria in 1895. She had lived at 519 Lampson Street for the past 47 years.

Surviving are a son, Walter J.; a daughter, Mrs. A. A. Bates; a sister, Mrs. F. Thomas; and a brother, A. Walter, Beecher Bay.

Labor Group Hits Action Of Company

An insurance company last night was criticized by Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council on its money-lending policies.

Council was told that a union member affiliated with the council had submitted a complaint on company policy. He said he had submitted in full, through an intermediate body, a check covering repayment. The insurance company had refused to pick it up from the intermediate and demanded continuing interest until the cheque was delivered to its own office.

Although it was technically right, a council letter to the company said, the action added to the "sinister connotations" generally applied to money-lenders.

Delegate Takes Back Dictatorship Charge

The word "dictator," was withdrawn last night after it had been used in reference to the Labor Relations Board by a delegate to Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.-T.L.C.).

The delegate had asked how long the "dictator" board could delay a strike vote. He withdrew his remarks after an explanation of the board's work.

He was informed that in two cases arrangements for vote took 15 days and 10 days respectively for carpenters and bakery workers.

Council was also told that with the number of requests for conciliation officers, "there aren't enough to go around. They also take strike votes. I don't know whether they are getting overtime but they're working more than an eight-hour day," a delegate said.

Strike Action Given Support

Support of the Victoria carpenters' strike action was given unanimously in a motion passed last night by Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.-T.L.C.).

PASADENA, Calif., June 18 (AP)—John Parsons, 31, an explosives expert, was killed Tuesday when a blast ripped apart his private laboratory. Four hours later his grieving mother died. Police said she had taken an overdose of sleeping pills.

Further Blow Struck at Fish Price Dispute Settlement

VANCOUVER, June 18 (BUP)—The loss of the British canned salmon market and failure of industry representatives to sell last year's surplus added a further blow today to a settlement of a price dispute of British Columbia fishermen and the operators.

J. M. Buchanan, chairman of the Fisheries Association, said in Ottawa there was "no hope whatsoever" of a sale to Britain this year.

Mr. Buchanan, accompanied by S. M. Rosenberg, president of the Canadian Fishing Company and Richard Nelson, president of Nelson Brothers Fisheries Ltd., completed talks Tuesday with trade officials in Ottawa.

Mr. Buchanan said that in the light of the situation, a salmon fishing operation on the West Coast this summer was only possible if the companies could secure raw fish prices that would allow the product to compete with other foodstuffs.

WORST CARRY-OVER

Last year's carry-over of canned salmon is the worst, he said, since the early 1930's. He said there were 698,000 cases of unsold canned salmon in Coast warehouses, apart from stocks held by retailers. The carry-over at the same time last year was only 15,000 cases.

Mr. Buchanan said the industry faced virtual collapse of its export markets, including the loss of the British contract. Last year, Britain took 300,000 cases of salmon, valued at $6,700,000.

He said that despite a $350,000 advertising campaign, consumption of salmon in Canada had not increased sufficiently to take up the slack brought about by the loss in exports.

Moscow Announces Death of Officer

MOSCOW, June 18 (AP)—Moscow newspapers today announced the death of Maj.-Gen. Eugence Alashin, a chief faculty member of the famous Frunze Military Academy since 1949. He was 51. Alashin was the third Russian major general whose death was announced in the last two days.

V.O.N. To Consider Extending Service

Urgent need in Saanich for bedside nursing on a visit basis was the subject of discussion by Councillor Grace Shaw of that municipality, when she visited the Victorian Order of Nurses' board of management meeting Thursday. Mrs. Dudley Markham, the president, was in the chair.

Requests for the service had been made by the Women's Institutes of Lakehill, Strawberry Vale, Marigold and Cordova Bay, Mrs. Shaw stated.

Miss Marjorie Baird, supervisor, Victoria branch, Mrs. F. Norris and Miss E. Gray were appointed as a committee to examine the financial and operational problems involved in the possibility of extending the V.O.N. service to that area.

V.O.N. nurses made a total of 1,675 visits in the city of Victoria during May; 931 for nursing and 744 for health instruction, and there were five parentcraft classes held, with an attendance of 42 mothers and 16 fathers, according to Miss Baird's report. A generous gift of cod liver oil from the Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie Chapter, I.O.D.E., was acknowledged by the supervisor.

Mrs. R. B. Horton was appointed convener of the re-formed nurses' advisory committee, which will include Mrs. F. T. S. Sehl, Mrs. E. P. Gillespie, Mrs. E. A. Robertson, with Mrs. E. Mallek as financial advisor. Mrs. Alec Gillespie will convene a sewing committee including Mrs. B. Peetz and Mrs. D. J. Lawson. Mrs. G. H. Simons was appointed to the publicity committee. Mr. H. Webster and Mrs. F. Norris were made delegates to the Victoria Community Chest.

The finance committee report, given by Mrs. F. Norris, recommended an approximate 10 per cent increase in salaries for the nursing staff, which was adopted by the board.

Mrs. A. T. Reynolds, V.O.N. junior president, estimated that close to $600 would be made from the children's fair when all returns were tabulated.

Presentation of a gift of silver from members of the board of management was made to Mrs. R. Leighton, a recently married member of the nursing staff.

From an Actual Letter to Your Telephone Company

"IF SHE HAD NOT BEEN THERE..."

"I wish to advise you that on Monday last at four o'clock in the morning my husband took a partial stroke. He was alone and managed to drag himself to the telephone. The operator on duty was very patient and kind and persisted in trying to understand my husband. She finally got the house number and sent the doctor immediately.

"We feel that such diligence and intelligence is deserving of attention, as my husband might have been injured permanently if she had not been there to help him."

Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants are pulling away from the rest of the National League in a determined effort to make a two-way race of it, as Chicago Cubs appear to have shot their bolt.

The Dodgers took their second straight from Chicago yesterday, winning a 6-5, 10-inning decision to hand the Cubs their fourth successive defeat, a season high for the windy city outfit.

The Giants whipped Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-2, to remain four games behind the pace-setting Dodgers and increase their margin over the third-place Bruins to 2½ games.

The Brooks gained their winning run without the aid of a hit as they snapped a 5-5 deadlock in the 10th. Jackie Robinson led off by walking. He promptly stole second for the third time and raced to third when catcher Toby Atwell dropped a third strike to Roy Campanella, which permitted the batter to reach first. Carl Furillo struck out and Duke Snider was purposely walked to load the bags, but Gil Hodges then lined to Hank Sauer in left and Robinson scored after the catch.

THOMSON STILL AT IT

Bobby Thomson collected four hits, including two home runs, and Jim Hearn pitched a seven-hitter in the Giants' victory over the Pirates. The circuit smashes were Thomson's third and fourth in three days and boosted his season's total to 12. Hearn lost his shutout in the ninth when George Metkovich hit a two-run homer.

St. Louis Cardinals took a 7-1 decision from Philadelphia Phillies. Solly Hemus bunted one of the Cardinal runs home and scored twice himself on Stan Musial's single and home run.

REDS MAKE SWEEP

Cincinnati Reds swept a twi-night doubleheader from Boston Braves, 7-6 and 3-1, in the other league games.

In a barrage of home runs by both sides, New York Yankees out-slugged Detroit Tigers, 19-6, to solidify their lead in the American League.

Yogi Berra, Gene Woodling and Billy Martin hit home runs for the Yanks while Vic Wertz cracked his 13th round tripper and Walt Dropo hit his 12th for the Tigers.

Washington Senators dropped Cleveland Indians into fourth place with a 3-2 victory over the Indians. Frank Shea held the Tribe to six hits. It was Cleveland's fifth straight defeat and put the club behind Chicago by two percentage points.

A lead-off double by Dick Kryhoski and a single by manager Marty Marion in the ninth inning gave St. Louis Browns a 4-2 victory over Boston Red Sox. It stretched the Brownies' winning streak to four games.

United, Reds Play Saturday At Callister

Victoria United will renew its battle with North Shore Reds for the Coast Soccer League title at Callister Park Saturday.

United dropped the first game of the best-of-three series at Vancouver, 2-1, gained a 2-2 tie at Macdonald Park last Saturday and can force a fourth game by winning this week end.

The Victoria club will hold a final practice this evening. Players are reported in excellent condition and the line-up will remain unchanged for Saturday's match.

United will fly to Vancouver, leaving Patricia Bay at 12.45 Saturday and returning at 6.15. Fans wishing to accompany the team are asked to phone G 6692 to make reservations.

Eagles handed Oak Bay Oaks their fifth straight loss in the Senior Amateur Baseball League at Beacon Hill Tuesday by trouncing the cellar-dwellers, 13-3, in a well-played game.

The result moved Eagles into third place and shoved the Oaks deeper into the basement.

Jim Thompson went the route for the Lodgemen and yielded six hits, whiffed eight and walked four.

Eagles pounced on starting pitcher Norm Dixon for three runs in the fifth and four in the sixth. George Hall's home run with one man on was the big blow in the sixth.

Garry McKenzie tok over from Dixon who was charged with the loss.

Bill Robinson, Craig Massie and Thompson paced the winners at bat with two hits apiece.

Doubles Champions Upset In Club Tennis Tourney

The top-seeded and defending men's doubles champions Jack Parker and Bill Dunbar lost out to a never-say-die team of Ron Mitchell and Gordon Hartley in the only upset recorded as play continued in the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club's annual tennis championships yesterday.

The ex-champs looked good enough to repeat as they raced to a 5-1 first set lead. Then the roof fell in and the Mitchell-Hartley duo pulled a great rally to win the match, 8-6, 6-3.

Peter Peacock entered the semi-final round of the men's singles with a 6-4, 6-1, win over veteran Carl Brand.

The first set was close but Brand seemed to tire in the second after Peacock took a 3-1 lead.

Peacock meets Ted Smythe in the semis tonight. Mitchell, defending champion, plays Parker tomorrow evening.

Today's draw follows:

3.30 p.m.—Semi-final men's singles: T. Smythe vs. P. D. Peacock. Semi-final women's singles: Mrs. B. Wilson vs. Mrs. A. Henrickson. Semi-final women's doubles: Misses Pearson and Ellis vs. Misses Elmsley and Bonner. Plights: C. Wilson vs. L. Flury, K. C. Hanow vs. H. S. Ford, H. Tooby vs. G. Bishop.

7.00 p.m.—Semi-finals men's doubles: Hutt and Smythe vs. McArthur and Jackson. Mixed doubles: Miss Speed and Tooby vs. Mrs. Keyes and Cameron. Mixed doubles: Miss Henley and Brand vs. Miss Jackson and Bishop.

'Rocks Overpower Vancouver, 20-7, To Cop Sole Lead

The Victoria Shamrock lacrosse machine that is the Victoria Shamrocks at their best rolled again last night. It rolled over the Vancouver Lacrosse Club, 20-7, and the Shamrocks sailed back into first place in the Inter-City Lacrosse League.

It's obvious to the most unobservant that there's no love lost between the Shamrocks and Vancouver. Bad blood that has existed ever since last year between the two was raised to near boiling again two weeks ago when the two tangled in Vancouver. It looked as though things were going to erupt against last night.

SEIZED OPPORTUNITY

The clubs came out feeling each other out like a pair of wary fighters. But, as a champion sees the most minute opening and is quick to take advantage, the Rocks seized on their first opportunity last night. They broke open a close-checking contest with 13 straight goals to leave fans wondering how this team could ever look bad.

Paced once again by terrific performances on the part of its top scorers, and backed by a solid defense and steady goaltending on the part of Jim Hetherington the Green team had everything.

PAD POINT TOTALS

Whitey Severson, the league's top point getter, and Jackie Northup led the attack with seven and six points respectively while Larry Booth chipped in with four points as did Archie Browning. Tommy Druce had three goals. The only potent Vancouverite was Jimmy Swanson, who scored three of his club's goals.

For the first 15 minptes the game had all the earmarks of a stiff checking, close-to-the-vest playoff-type show. After Tommy Druce shot the Rocks into the lead with two quick goals, Vancouver came back to score four times and take a 4-2 quarter time lead.

Then the Shamrocks started to move again, Druce got another one, Northup, Popham and Booth added singletons and they led 6-4 at halftime. But those four marked only the prelude of an zoom by Jack Green before Vancouver could get back on the scoresheet. From 13.56 of the first quarter to 2.25 of the last, Hetherington was unbeatable.

Northup led a third-quarter barrage with four goals as the Rocks took a 15-4 lead. After that it was just a question of how many Lucy would score.

Vancouver managed three in the late minutes of the last quarter but could do nothing about stopping the potent attack that time after time left Green uncovered and alone to face the aggressor.

WELL HANDLED

Hard-checking as the game was, it was well controlled by referees Bill Wilks and Gordie Folka and there was little in the way of actual fireworks, a slight tiff between Freddie Whittaker and Norm Baker being the only exception.

Friday, the Shamrocks will attempt to maintain their first-place margin when they meet Indians at Vancouver. They'll be without Archie Browning for that one when the blonde speedster will rest a cracked rib. Johnny Newton and Fred Ranson will make the trip.

Severson Six Points Up In Lacrosse Point Race

Whitey Severson of Victoria Shamrocks stretched his lead in the Inter-City Lacrosse League's individual scoring race to six points last night with his seven-point outburst.

Severson now has 49 points, made up of 16 goals and a pace-setting 49 assists.

Victoria's Larry Booth and Jackie Northup moved into a two-way tie for second place with 43 points apiece, two more than New Westminster's Joe Jerome.

Alfie Wood of New Westminster is the leading goal scorer with 31 markers. Northup and teammate Archie Browning trail him by two goals.

Spurs Outclass Montreal, 8-0, In Final Game

MONTREAL, June 18 (CP).—Some 6,000 soccer fans saw London's Tottenham Hotspur soccer team end its Canadian tour here tonight, blanking a Montreal All-Star team, 8-0.

Making extensive use of short passes and taking full advantage of the dry, hard ground, the English visitors piled up a 4-0 advantage in the first half. The home team, although outclassed, fought back to the end and Tottenham's scores were spread throughout the game.

Stars of the English side were centre forward Sid McLellan and right inside Les Bennett, each accounting for three goals. The remaining two goals were scored by right half Ralph Wetton and outside left Les Medley. Medley also got two assists.

Makeshift Tyees Trim Braves, 9-1, On Heads-Up Play

Yakima	22	37	.373	18½

A beautifully-pitched twi-nighter by Cal McIrvin and the steady, errorless support, heads-up base-running and timely hitting of his teammates proved too much for the Tri-City Braves last night as Victoria Tyees took the deciding game of the three-game series, 9-1.

Victory kept the Tyees six games ahead of Spokane Indians and eight ahead of Vancouver Capilanos in the W.I.L. pennant race.

McIrvin was never better as he came up with his 10th successive complete game and his ninth win in 11 decisions. Throwing with easy poise and almost letter perfect in his control, the big southpaw was almost always ahead of the hitters and never in any danger.

MASTERFUL STINT

Only three Braves reached base and only one managed to get as far as second base. McIrvin set down 17 hitters in a row after Joe Scalise bounced a second-inning single into left field. Then with one out in the eighth, Scalise reached him for a low line hit to right field. Granny Gladstone failed in a try for a shoe-string catch and the ball rolled to the fence for a triple. An outfield fly sent in Scalise to deprive McIrvin of his shutout.

Nick Pesut had opened the eighth with a smashing liner which was neatly taken by Gladstone and Don Lopes was the third out when Cec Garriott made a leaping catch of his long fly ball to left-centre. It was the only inning in which McIrvin was hit hard. Only two balls, easy lofts to left field, were hit out of the infield in the first seven innings and Gladstone's game-ending catch in the ninth was a routine putout.

McIrvin issued his only walk in the ninth and will collect a steak dinner from manager Garriott for his display of control.

ALERT BASE-RUNNING

With McIrvin holding the Braves in check, his teammates got him the runs he needed with some successfully daring work on the base paths. The Tyees broke it wide open in the eighth with a five-run outburst, but their 4-0 lead was almost solely the result of alert base-running.

Luther Branham and Bob Moniz led off the first with singles and Branham scored and Moniz went all the way to third as Scalise let Moniz' hit roll away. Moniz then romped in from third, getting a good start, as Garriott grounded out.

Granny Gladstone scored the third Victoria run in the fourth when he walked, raced all the way to third as third-baseman Bob Rittenberg tossed out Jim Clark, and scored on a single by John Treece.

FORCE ERRORS

Branham opened the fifth with a single and made it to third with a slide on Moniz' short single to right although he broke stride rounding second. He made in after the catch on Garriott's outfield fly.

Treece went from first to third on Ben Lorino's sacrifice bunt in the sixth, but didn't score. Speed played a big part, too, in the eighth, helping force three Tri-City errors which played a part in the run-making.

Not the least-pleasing aspect of the game was the way the versatile Tyees functioned with a makeshift line-up. With Don Pries and Chuck Abernathy, their hardest-hitting infield regulars, sidelined with injuries, they didn't look a bit less potent with Branham and Lorino as replacements.

REPLACEMENTS STAR

Lorino took over at first base, handled 14 chances perfectly, laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt, picked up a single and walked once in three other trips and batted in a run and scored once. The speedy Branham had two singles in five trips, scored twice and accepted seven chances without miscue at second base.

Pries may return Saturday while Abernathy's return is indefinite at the moment. Branham will continue to play at the keystone with McIrvin likely to take over at first base except on days when he is pitching, when the job will again fall to Lorino.

Heglin Lands 19-Pound Fish

Cliff Heglin, who qualified for the final fishoff during the first week of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association ladder derby, weighed in the largest fish on the opening day of the third week yesterday. Heglin's 19-pound catch will be eligible for one of the six weekly prizes.

Other catches reported yesterday were: Jim Tang, 8½ pounds; A. C. Anderson, 6¾; Jack Main, 6¼; Mr. Harris, 4½, and Red Barker, 4.

J. Hayton was the second angler in as many days to catch a button fish and not have a club membership. He landed a 22-pounder and immediately purchased a membership for a second attempt to qualify.

Minor Baseball

Saanich No. 2 trounced Saanich No. 1, 11-5, and Eagles and City Centre No. 3, battled to an 11-11 tie in midget division games of the Minor Baseball Association at Macdonald Park Tuesday night.

On Sunday, James Bay, Saanich No. 2, Esquimalt and Eagles scored wins in the midget division.

James Bay defeated Fairfield, 9-4; Saanich No. 2 defeated City Centre No. 1, 12-1; Esquimalt defeated City Centre No. 2, 10-2; and Eagles defeated City Centre No. 4, 17-4.

In the juvenile division: Eagles defeated Oaklands, 10-9; City Centre defeated Combines, 17-8, and Saanich defeated Oak Bay by default.

Baseball Meeting Scheduled Today

An important meeting of the Victoria Amateur Baseball Association has been called by President Wally Thompson for tonight at the offices of A. P. Dawe, 625 Fort Street, commencing at 8.

Plans for the drive to obtain needed funds will be discussed. All interested are invited to attend.

Thompson has issued an appeal to all minor league managers to return all trophies, won by teams and players in the past few years, at the meeting.

The executive meeting will be held at 7.30 and will be followed by a general meeting at 8.15.

Plans for the coming season and the annual election of officers will be the main business on the agenda.

Hurlers Star As Indians, Capilanos Win

Pitchers held the spotlight in the W.I.L. last night.

At Vancouver, the Capilanos edged Salem Senators, 1-0, as Bob Snyder got the decision from tough-luck Ray McNulty. Spokane Indians remained six games behind Victoria Tyees with John Conant blanking the Bears, 3-0 at Yakima.

Only at Wenatchee did the batters have the edge. Five hurlers saw action as the Chiefs whipped Lewiston Broncs, 12-6 to vault into fourth place.

McNulty lost his second straight game by a 1-0 score Victoria Tyees having bested him Sunday. He held the Caps to four hits but a single by John Ritchey, a stolen base, an error which put Ritchey on third, and Jim Wert's outfield fly beat him when his teammates failed in the clutch against the steadily-improving Snyder.

He Should Qualify Easily

Total of 58 fish were weighed in during second week of Victoria-Saanich Anglers' Association ladder derby, which ended Tuesday evening, but Bill Moore should be fairly certain of gaining one of the 40 qualifying rungs for the final fishoff on August 24. Moore hooked this 20-pound spring at Brentwood Sunday, using Luckie Louie plug on 150 feet of line with 16-ounce weight. Others in party were Mrs. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. John Ford.—(Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

Lacks Club Membership, Angler Lands 29-Pounder

Walter Thickett is probably the most unhappy angler in Victoria this week.

Thickett Tuesday hooked a 29-pound salmon on a McKnight spoon in the Goldstream end of Saanich Inlet but cannot qualify for the final fishoff in the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association ladder derby as he failed to purchase a membership.

Thickett's fish is the heaviest caught in the inlet in the past two weeks, topping by three pounds Frank Curtis' 26-pounder, which unofficially heads the qualifiers in the second week's competition.

Seventeen catches were reported Tuesday, final day of the second week's competition, and indications are that at least a 5½-pounder will be necessary to win one of the 40 qualifying rungs for the final fish-off.

Curtis hooked his button fish at the Goldstream end. Other catches reported from the same area were: H. Hett, 17 pounds; Jack Kennedy, 9¾ pounds; Fred Booth, 7¾ pounds; Mrs. R. Wherry, 7 pounds; Ralph Wherry, 5 pounds, and V. W. Parker, 5 pounds.

Catches at the Brentwood end included: Bill Moore, 20 pounds; Charlie Lowe, 19 pounds; Frank Front, 11 pounds; A. Lock, 7 pounds; A. Tetford, 6½ pounds; H. W. Prengnel, 5¾ pounds; R. L. Ratcliffe, 5 pounds; John Ford, 3½ pounds; Mrs. Irene [illegible] and Dick Jewsbury, 1½ pounds.

Golf--- Here's How

By SAM SNEAD

Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

A golf swing is made up of many parts. But nobody can think of all of them during a swing. You don't need to. As you acquire skill, most of your swing becomes automatic. Something like the way you don't hear the clock ticking—or mother calling out that its getting late and you must come in now. Your stance, grip, and hip and shoulder pivots, will be things you just do correctly because you know why and because you've practiced them until they are habits—good habits. You will begin to pick out your fundamental flaws. Let's say you are today's pictured player and that you usually slice. Probably your slice is due to your hands being ahead of the clubhead at impact. Then, think only of that. The correction is to make sure that you pour more hand-wrist action into the shot during the last third o the down swing. Then your clubhead will be even with the hands at impact—as it must be—and not lagging behind.

Boros Withdraws From P.G.A. Tourney; Gajda Leads Qualifying Play With 66

LOUISVILLE, June 18 (AP)—The United States Open champion, Julius Boros, abruptly pulled out of the P.G.A. golf tournament today and a towering, little-known assistant pro from Detroit, Bob Gajda, seized the lead for the qualifying medal with a sizzling six-under-par 66.

It was a day of wild confusion, reversed decisions, and par-wrecking rounds as top professionals began the 36-hole preliminary test to their match-play championship. Matches open Friday.

SNEAD WELL BACK

Defending champion Sam Snead, exempt from qualifying, first said he wouldn't try for the $250 low medal prize and then decided he would. He shot 72 with an aching back.

Boros, sensational winner of the Open last week-end in Dallas, brought his clubs out to play in the event as an invited guest of the organization. He isn't a P.G.A. member.

But an hour before tee-off time he walked out, announcing he had taken the move to prevent possible dissension.

The chaos didn't affect the 35-year-old Gajda, a six-foot-three, Oakland Hills aide playing in his first P.G.A. Gajda fired 35-31—66 over the par 36-36—72 course to take a one-stroke lead going into tomorrow's final 18 holes of qualifying.

CLOSE TO PACE

Tied at 67 were Cary Middlecoff, 1949 U.S. Open champion who is making his P.G.A. debut; Henry Williams, Jr., of Kutztown, Pa., and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison.

Five players were tied with 68's—Milon Marusic of Herkimer, N.Y.; Roberto de Vicenzo of Argentina, Marty Furgol, Claude Harmon and Jim Turnesa.

The flat, wide-open course was stretched to 7,240 yards by placement of the tees. But the heat broke and the pros found it simple to spank par. More than a score were better than 72.

Scores of the leaders: (par 36-36—72): Gajda, 35-31—66; Middlecoff, 34-33—67; Williams, 33-34—67; Harrison, 33-35—67; Harmon, 35-33—68; De Vicenzo, 37-31—68; Turnesa, 33-35—68; Marusic, 34-34—68; Furgol, 35-33—68; Ray Honsberger, Clarkston, Wash., 33-36—69; Charles Lepre, Devlestown, Pa., 35-34—69; Dave Douglas, 34-35—69.

Jackson Bradley, Chicago, 35-35—70; Clayton Heafner, 35-35—70; Leonard Dodson, Mission, Kan., 33-37—70; Norton Smith, 34-36—70; Jack Isaacs, Lancler Field, Va., 36-34—70; Phil Fritel, Jr., Nashua, N.H., 34-36—70; Eddie Joseph, Fairfax, Calif., 34-36—70; Chandler Harper, 35-35—70.

Fort Washington, N.Y., 35-36—71; John Lewis, Philadelphia, 36-35—71; Leonard Schmutte, Findlay, O., 36-35—71; Harry Todd, Dallas, Tex., 36-36—71; Bob Hamilton, 35-36—71; Roy Wallin, Lisle, Ill., 36-35—71; Bob Carmen, White Plains, N.Y., 35-36—71; Jack Burke, Jr., 35-36—71; Lawson Martin, Fort Worth, Tex., 36-35—71; Max Evans, 34-37—71; Jack Jones, Waterloo, Ia., 36-35—71; Jim Ferrier, 35-36—71; Chick Harbert, 34-37—71; Mike Pavella, Washington, Pa., 34-37—71.

Joe Draskovitch, Kansas City, Kan., won the National Bowlers Journal Sweepstakes tournament with a five-game total of 1,111 at Milwaukee.

London Tennis Dominated By Australians

LONDON, June 18 (AP)—Six Australians and two Americans have advanced to the quarter-finals of the London grass courts tennis championships.

The lone Americans are Vic Seixas and Irvin Dorfman of New York. Seixas, ranked No. 1 in the U.S., eliminated Naresh Kumar of India, 6-2, 6-4, today while Dorfman, ranked 30th, upset Ian Ayre of Australia, 6-4, 6-4.

Top-seeded Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor led the Aussie sextet into the quarter-finals. Sedgman breezed past Carlos Sanhueza of Chile, 6-2, 6-4, while McGregor walloped Wladyslaw Skonecki, self-exiled Pole, 6-2, 6-2.

Victories of two young Aussies, Ken Rosewall and Lewis Hoad, were in the form of upsets. Rosewall outstroked Eric Sturgess of South Africa, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3, and Hoad ousted Ham Richardson of the U.S., 8-6, 0-6, 6-3.

Mervyn Rose downed Ian McDonald of England, 6-2, 6-1, and Don Candy was an 8-6, 6-0 victor over Giuseppe Merlo of Italy to complete the round of eight.

CAPTURE ROSE BOWL

A women's team from the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club captured the Butchart Rose Bowl inter-club competition Tuesday by defeating a team from the Victoria West Lawn Bowling Club, 34-33, at the Canadian Pacific greens.

Bowler Takes Nine Wickets For 39 Runs

LONDON, June 18 (Reuters)—Charlie Grove, 39-year-old Warwickshire bowler, today notched the finest feat of his career by taking nine Sussex wickets for a meagre 39 runs.

Grove took eight of the wickets before lunch. Afterwards, Eric Hollies took one of the remaining two, depriving grove of the chance to take all 10.

Batting honors in today's county matches went to Middlesex's bill Edrich who punished Oxford University's bowling to the tune of 239. He reached the score in six hours, hitting one six and 37 fours.

Close of play scores:

Surrey, 384 for six vs. Cambrige University.

Middlesex, 396 for five vs. Oxford University.

Yorkshire, 208 for three vs. Worcestershire, rain restricted play.

Nottinghamshire, 185 for two vs. Gloucestershire, rain restricted play.

Lancashire, 78 for six vs. Glamorgan, rain restricted play.

Somerset, 247 for nine vs. Derbyshire. Leicestershire, 333 for six vs. Essex. Kent, 233 for six vs. Northamptonshire. Sussex, 86; Warwickshire, 188 for five.

Esquimalt Holds Workout For Province Cup Match

Esquimalt Soccer Club will hold another practice at Bullen Park this evening at 6.30 in preparation for its coming Province Cup game against Vancouver Labor Craft.

The Dockyards are representing Vancouver Island teams in the annual competition for the B.C. soccer title and manager Dave Shaw reports that the team has been training hard for the past few weeks and is in excellent condition.

The team did well during league and cup play this year. It won the McGavin Cup competition and placed a good second behind Victoria West in the league. Esquimalt was also a finalist in the Jackson Cup tournament.

The Province Cup match will be played at Macdonald Park Saturday evening at 6.30.

The Esquimalt team will be picked from the following players: Bill Hatcher, Glen Underwood, Alf Armitage, Henry Slater, Ken Spence, Don Robinson, Ed Young, Alf Jenkins, Art Young, Gordon Duncan, Bill Walker, Ed Sage, Charlie Constable, Tim Walker and Alex Stewart.

Walcott-Layne Title Bout Definitely Off

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—Marvin Jenson, manager of heavyweight Rex Layne, said today negotiations for a July title fight with champion Jersey Joe Walcott at Ogden had collapsed.

"We thought we could go in late July or early August, if they would move back Walcott's tentative September fight with the Rocky Marciano-Harry Matthews winner,' said Jenson.

"After we talked with Jim Norris (International Boxing Club president) we found that the September date couldn't be set back."

No contracts have been signed for any Walcott match with the Marciano-Matthews winner. However, Jenson said Felix Bocchicchio, Walcott's manager, told him the champ probably would defend in September. The likely date is September 8.

Jenson left tonight for his Salt Lake City home, still hoping to arrange a title shot for Layne after Walcott's next bout. He hoped to land Oakland Billy Smith or Roland La Stara as a summer foe for Layne at Salt Lake.

Remember When..

Max Schmeling, the former heavyweight titleholder, knocked out young Joe Louis in the 12th round of their scheduled 15-round bout at New York 16 years ago tonight. But it was Louis who gained the title shot against James J. Braddock and Louis dethroned Braddock in 1937.

Camosun Net Play

Cec Clague defeated Toad Garnet, 6-0, 6-1, to advance into the semi-final round of the men's singles in the annual Camosun Tennis Club championships.

Today's draw follows:

6 p.m.—Val Speed vs. Gerry Debbin, Bill Merling vs. Will Browne-Cave.

7 p.m.—Les Stilling vs. Bill Gaunt, A. Erickson and C. Clague vs. J. Grant and W. Hocking.

Breeze Helps Fast Times

A strong breeze provided some exciting sailing for competitors in the Royal Victoria Yacht Club evening races yesterday, and all fleets turned in fast times.

Sole casualty was Gordon Inglis' Star, Mintaka, which lost its mast when a lower shroud gave way.

H. A. Wallace's Buccaneer III was first home in the A Class race, apparently far enough ahead of Max Young's Alcion to save the time allowance she must give the slower boat.

Ned Ashe in May D finished first in C Class but G. L. Davis in Blue Goose, who finished a close second, appeared to be winner on his handicap.

C. Wood in PDQ won the Snipe race. Peter Townshend in Aquila topped the Stars and Spencer Davis in Rania the Lightnings. John Green in Warrior finished first in X Class.

NOT CALCULATED

Final results for cruising classes and X Class were not calculated last night. The last five places in the 12-boat Snipe fleet also were in doubt—the race committee being unable to identify the closely-spaced boats at the finish.

Full results available were:

A Class—Buccaneer, H. A. Wallace; Alcion, Max Young; Lalonga II, Dick James.

C Class—May D, Ned Ashe; Blue Goose, G. L. Davis; White Swan; Red Start, J. Marshall.

Stars—Aquila, P. Townshend; Tatos, Logan Meyhew; Vela, Bill McIntosh.

Lightnings—Rania, S. Davies; Baccanal, Terry Gower; Pukeko, Roy Murdoch; Allegro, C. Baker.

Snipes—PDQ, C. Wood; Stormy Petrel, Robert Leckie; Wee Joe, Betty Browne; Iskoodal, Lyle Russell; Valero, D. Richardson; Ceebee, Betty Dawson; Risk, D. McNeil.

X Class—Warrior, J. Green; Hilunga, Frank Porter; Raven, Denny Coverdale; Mae West, Dave Ockington; Viking, Lionel Edwards; Lazy J., Ray Jefferson.

Convention May Discuss P.C. Future

Future of the British Columbia Progressive Conservative party may be discussed in Vancouver about the end of July.

Unofficial reports yesterday were that a convention would be called for at the party's executive quarterly meeting, although a party official said that none of the B.C. associations have asked for a parley.

P.C. provincial party leader Herbert Anscomb has given no indication of his plans.

Meanwhile, although the province's Young Liberals are reportedly pressing for a convention to settle questions of future policy and leadership, Mrs. J. L. Gates, president of the B.C. Liberal Association denied that convention requests have come from 10 ridings.

City Festival Gets Support

The Junior Chamber of Commerce announced last night that it will add its support to two other groups to make the giant gladioli festival a success.

The festival will be held in Victoria August 6, 7 and 8 and will be backed by the Cosmopolitan Club and the Victoria Gladiolus Society.

B.C. Man May Be Mystery Figure

A northern B.C. man may turn out to be the key figure in a two-year-old Ontario mystery.

He is believed to be Henry Harris, who in September, 1950, disappeared while on duty with the Ontario game department south of Kenora near Echo Bay.

The boat he had used was found in the water by a search party and when dragging operations failed to locate the body he was presumed drowned.

His will was then settled and his life insurance paid to his widow.

About two weeks ago two fliers, Rex Kitely and Don Watson, who had flown with Harris and had helped in the search for him in 1950, landed in Redpass, B.C. and saw a man they believed to be Harris.

They found he was employed as a section-hand on the railway there and went by the name of Ray Ferrier.

The fliers were so sure of their identification they notified the R.C.M.P. and an investigation, with the assistance of the Ontario Provincial Police was started.

CHANGED HIS NAME

It was determined that Harris was christened Roy Ferrier but when his mother remarried he changed his name to Harris.

When questioned, Ferrier said he could remember no farther back than the fall of 1950 when he "woke up" in the Okanagan Valley near Kelowna.

Description of Harris tallies with Ferrier right down to a long scar on his chest and his age.

Ferrier says he has no recollection of ever being married or living in Ontario. Mrs. Harris, widow of the man who was presumed drowned in 1950, is flying to Redpass to help in the identification.

Society Picks City Dentist

VANCOUVER, June 18 (CP)—Dr. L. F. Marshall of Vancouver today was elected president of the British Columbia Dental Association. New president-elect is Dr. H. R. Turner of Victoria, who will assume the presidency for 1953-54.

Amendment of Code Urged for Cheaters

OTTAWA June 18 (CP) A legal expert today suggested that a treaty with the United States be rejected and that the Criminal Code be amended to allow Canadian courts to try residents who cheat U.S. citizens on stock market deals.

Senator L. W. de B. Farris, K.C., British Columbia judge, told the Senate [illegible] Canadian resident [illegible] and money by fraudulently representing [illegible] offered for sale in the United States.

The senate banking and commerce committee referred action [illegible] the proceeds to obtain money by false pretences.

Senator Farris said Canadian wrongdoers should be handled by Canadian courts. He suggested a five-year jail sentence for a person responsible for stock fraud in or outside Canada.

The extradition treaty was drawn up last year after complaints from the United States that two Canadian operators [illegible] Toronto obtained money on the basis of information which misrepresented the value of the stock they offered for sale.

Senator Farris said he objected to the fact that a Canadian could be taken to the U.S. for trial on extradition warrants based only on the face value of the evidence.

[illegible] pending appearance of Mr. Garson and Mr. Pearson.

Justice Minister Garson and External Affairs Minister Pearson.

Senator Farris, former president of the Canadian Bar Association, urged rejection of the Canada-U.S. extradition treaty signed last fall. The treaty already ratified by the U.S. would make it possible for residents of one [illegible] to be taken to the other [illegible] charge of [illegible]

Tooth Doodling Costly

VANCOUVER June 18 (CP) Tooth doodling can lead to false teeth.

That's a warning given today by Dr. B. Jankelson of Seattle, Wash. at the annual meeting of the Canadian Dental Association.

Dr. Jankelson explained that [illegible] when concentrating on a knotty problem may help at the time but can lead to man-made dentures.

"Tooth doodling, call it," he said, "it can lead to sensitive teeth, damaged gums and eventually removal of them.

"As you chew and grind perhaps do rage the parts of the teeth which are in contact wear down.

"Modern foods, he said, are to blame. In the old days coarse foods helped grind down surfaces that weren't already ground down by their enamel or concentrat[illegible]

"Today's soft foods don't do this.

He said modern dentistry can correct the condition sometimes. Other times the only correction is false teeth.

U.S. Permission Sought To Market Canadian Gas

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP) - Westcoast Transmission Corp., which wants to market Canadian gas in the Pacific Northwest, sought United States permission today to match the limited approval it already has from Canadian authorities.

The Wilmington, Del., corporation is one of five applicants seeking Federal Power Commission [illegible] Westcoast's case after Northwest Natural Gas Co. completed its testimony.

The Canadian Board of Transport Commissioners announced in Ottawa Saturday that it will permit Westcoast's Canadian affiliate to build a pipeline from Alberta to the Canadian-Pacific coast if a study of gas reserves indicated a sufficient supply was available.

Westcoast opened its testimony with a shower of legal obstacles involved, and is expected to outline tomorrow the extent to which it has met the various requirements.

Luther Vantuyle F. Jessey of Calgary, geologist for Brittalta Petroleums Ltd., testified it has reservations on land in the Marty Island Lake area which are estimated to contain more than 650,000,000,000 cubic feet of marketable natural gas.

Brittalta is one of three companies which witnesses said have contracted to supply northwest with natural gas.

Robert B. Wilkins, reservoir engineer for Gulf Oil Corp., one of the contracting companies, said that the Pincher Creek field [illegible] Alberta [illegible] reserves for 20 years and use up only 62 per cent of its marketable gas supply. He estimated that after the 20-year period there would still be 666,000,000,000 cubic feet of gas in the huge field.

B.C. Druggists Lead Education

VERNON, B.C., June 18 (CP) - F. H. Fullerton of Vancouver said here today that British Columbia druggists have taken the lead in Canada in educating the public on the dangers of indiscriminate use of drugs.

Incident of Many Years Ago Recalled

BY MRS. JEAN STUART CLARK

Passing by the old drill hall on Menzies Street the other day we were reminded of an incident which occurred about 1899 or 1900 when Victoria was entertaining distinguished visitors the Earl and Countess of Aberdeen.

The earl was governor-general of Canada at the time and a big "do" had been arranged for their welcome and entertainment.

The school children were granted a holiday and arrangements were made to have them gather inside the drill hall and sing "God Save the Queen" as the visitors walked to the platform at the end of the hall which was decorated with flags and bunting.

The Fifth Regiment Band was in attendance prepared to do its best and Col. Crowe Baker, heading the reception committee had arranged everything to go right along with clockwork precision.

The children had faithfully practiced their singing been thoroughly drilled in their parts and were all in place when the earl and countess and party arrived at the drill hall about [illegible] noon.

MISSED THEIR CUE

The band struck up "God save the Queen" — the cue for the children to start singing but they were so awed or entranced by the novelty of their surroundings, the uniforms and the crowd that they just stood there, open-mouthed and never made a sound while the band played on.

As the honored guests walked up to the platform Col. Crowe Baker with perspiration breaking out on his face stood like a band conductor, frantically making the downbeat with both hands and in an agonized stage-whisper repeating over and over to the children, "God Save the Queen, God Save the Queen."

But the children had no eyes for the colonel. They kept staring at the guests and the surroundings.

As the final note was being played and the guests had taken their places on the platform ready to receive the address of welcome, the children suddenly remembered why they were there and every last one of them piped up with one accord "God save our gracious Queen" albeit a little wobbly at the end of the line.

The band rushed nobly to the rescue took up the slack and the children sang their loudest and best.

RETIRED FOR MOMENT

The gallant colonel retired into the background for a minute while he wiped the perspiration from his face.

Any embarrassment caused by the disruption of the schedule were off by the time the children finished singing and Col. Crowe Baker survived the ordeal although for a few minutes it looked as though he wouldn't.

The earl and countess made a trip up the Coast during that year and I believe it was on their return to Vancouver on board ship the HMCS Amphion struck a rock and knocked a plate but without serious result.

This plate was kept at the provincial museum for quite a while but we don't know where it is now.

NO. 160—NINETY-FOURTH YEAR | VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, THURSDAY, JUNE 19, 1952 | SECOND NEWS SECTION

Legal Advice Urged

Legal opinions may be sought by two unions over disputes with Victoria city and Saanich municipality.

Victoria Firemen's Union has been advised that it "seems probable under the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act that they are suffering a lockout" on the Yates Street Fire Hall, Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) was told last night by its secretary, Percy Rayment.

He said it had been suggested to firemen that they obtain legal opinion on the point.

Thomas Gooderham, T.L.C. organizer, told the council also that Saanich Municipal Employees Association will meet to consider further the municipal police commission decision not to accept two points of a unanimous conciliation board report binding under the Municipal Act, regarding policemen only.

He indicated legal action also may be started.

EXCEEDED AUTHORITY

The commission said the employees that it had been advised by solicitors that the conciliation board had exceeded its authority. It would not institute service pay nor abolish knee boots or leggings as recommended, the commission stated.

Mr. Rayment pointed out that if firemen's legal advisers thought closing of Yates Street fire hall was a lockout, they then should apply to the Labor Relations Board for permission to prosecute the city.

The I.U.A. Act and Municipal Act are due for revision, said council delegate Harold Thayer.

The situation in the province as far as labor is concerned indicates "speedy revision" when the government is decided. Labor should decide which act is more important and also should recommend that those sections of the Municipal Act pertaining to labor be transferred to the I.U.A. Act.

Credit Union Picks Hunter

NANAIMO, June 18.—Howard C. Hunter, of Vancouver Fire Fighters' Credit Union, was elected president of the health service branch of the Credit Union and Cooperative Health Services Society at the opening meeting of the three-day convention here today.

Other officers elected were: John Homer, Equitable Credit Union, Vancouver, vice-president; John Hunter, G. Allen, J. Hastings, Mrs. A. D. Baillie, Frank Greenaway of Victoria, F. Foster, John Fry, H. C. Hunter and Dr. J. H. McDermot, directors.

The answer is in today's classified section feature, "Where in the World?"

Inspecting Officer Interested in Figurehead

During his inspection of H.M.C.S. Malahat Monday, Capt. A. G. Boulton, director of naval reserves, showed interest in unusual figurehead recently acquired from a retired navy officer by the local naval reserve division. Here Capt. Boulton studies the figurehead, which has been named "Chief Malahat." Looking on are Wren Joyce Villeneuve, Victoria Y.W.C.A., and A.B. James Redlin, 6641½ Garbally Road. The reserve force director paid tribute to Malahat officers, men and Wrens and said he had found their training ship, Sault Ste. Marie and the divisional headquarters neat, clean and tidy. Government-Supervised Strike Vote For Woodworkers' Union Due Today

BY BILL MAVOR

Machinery for a government-supervised strike vote among International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) members may swing into action today.

Announcement was made last Saturday by the Labor Relations Board that a supervised vote was being arranged for today.

Polling officers were appointed and there has been no move to alter the situation, it was learned.

The vote would be conducted among individual certified units prepared to ballot.

The I.W.A. members struck at midnight Saturday and many of the 32,000 members have left logging camps and woods operations for cities.

TIME-LOSS ESTIMATE

Unofficial estimate of time-loss based on the 32,000 members is 128,000 working days, the fourth highest figure for the province since 1935.

There was an official "no comment" from Premier Byron Johnson's office on reports the cabinet had discussed the strike situation in the province and that C.C.F. leader Harold Winch had asked the premier to act as mediator in current labor disputes.

Neither I.W.A. officials nor Forest Industrial Relations had earning for 163 coast operators, made comment yesterday on the strike now entering its fifth day.

There were indications, however, that the strike may continue for some time. One Victoria lumber firm has given its office staff two weeks holiday and four weeks' notice. Included in the decision was the plant superintendent.

Two smaller operators in the Victoria area have given their office staffs two weeks' notice and a municipal operation has given one week's notice and two weeks holiday.

Victoria Contractors' Association separate from the Victoria Building Industries Exchange announced last night that they would shut down all operations in which [illegible] employed effective at 4.30 p.m. today.

The action is taken due to picketing by Local 1598, it was announced.

The complete shutdown will affect mostly house building.

There was also no comment from Victoria's Local 1598, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) or the Building Exchange.

The strike of carpenters was full effective at noon coinciding with a lockout ordered by the contractors on all carpentry work. The strike began Tuesday morning.

There was no indication that shipyards locally would be involved in the carpenters' strike as at Vancouver. Municipal [illegible] Pacific Dry Dock Company, North Vancouver was struck. Some 250 shipyard workers refused to cross the picket line.

Throughout the province nearly 10,000 workers are idle including woodworkers, carpenters, Vancouver painters and hundreds of allied workers not directly on strike.

Defense Co-ordination

Officers Observe Demonstration

In a quiet downtown Victoria demonstrate to army officers building that was once a hotel a how the R.C.A.F. in central group of officers on whom most operations air supply informa of the air defence of Canada aircraft defenses and Canada coast authorities last night civilian defense agencies to watch a demonstration of defense co-ordination.

From the [illegible] stories below pedestrians could have dropped through open windows R.C.A.F. air force personnel moving in the guarded operations rooms.

Officers were shown the operations rooms in actual practice. All attending were screened at the door. Officers went through in groups of 10.

Among high ranking staff of fficers present at the demonstration was Gp. Capt. H. E. Brown anti-aircraft commander for Canada from St. Hubert's, Que.

The demonstration was part of a week-long session of the annual gathering of reserve officers to review training and progress across the country.

FIRST IN VICTORIA

This was the third annual gathering and the first that has been held in Victoria.

The gathering takes the form of lectures, demonstrations and familiarization of training and methods of defense.

In actual demonstration last night were civilian R.C.A.F. personnel only, no permanent personnel. A substantial number of airwomen took part in the show.

In charge of the air force demonstration was Squn. Ldr. F. D. P. Holmes.

Purpose of the show was to

Cmdr. James Plomer To Succeed Capt. Musgrave As Commanding Officer of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis

CMDR. JAMES PLOMER

Cmdr. James Plomer, 40, who commanded the destroyer Cayuga during her second assignment in Korea which ended last Saturday, has been named commanding officer of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, the navy's new entry training establishment in Nova Scotia.

Cmdr. Plomer will succeed Capt. A. Musgrave, 52, Victoria, who has commanded the Cornwallis establishment since its recommissioning in May, 1949. Capt. Musgrave has proceeded on permanent leave.

On taking up his new appointment, Cmdr. Plomer will be promoted to the rank of acting captain.

Cmdr. Plomer's naval career dates back to 1932 when he entered the R.C.N.V.R. in Winnipeg as a sub-lieutenant. He has been on active service since September, 1939, and has held numerous posts ashore and afloat since that time, including a considerable time with the Royal Navy. He holds the D.S.C. and Bar.

Born in Cobourg of English parents, Capt. Musgrave came to Canada at an early age and lived in Victoria. He entered the Royal Naval College of Canada in 1934 and during the First World War saw service with the Royal Navy. He remained in the navy until 1920. Farming, logging and school teaching filled in the years between wars. He re-entered the navy at the outbreak of the last war.

Capt. Musgrave is one of the most widely known officers of the Royal Canadian Navy through his having commanded, for lengthy periods, establishments where thousands of wartime and postwar navy men received their training.

Mrs. Mary Bell Dies

U.K. Death Severs Picturesque Link

BY J. K. NESBITT

A [illegible] with a picturesque present to Victoria's past, when British naval officers stationed at Esquimalt frequently married the daughters of prominent local families, has been severed by the death in England of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Bell, wife of surgeon-captain A. G. Bell, retired British naval officer.

Mrs. Bell was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred John Langley, who came to Victoria [illegible] years ago. Mr. Langley and his brother James had been in business [illegible] Langley and Michaels.

On their arrival here the Langleys promptly started a wholesale and retail drug establishment, picking up on Yates Street and building the famed Apothecaries Hall. In 1884 Lieutenant-Governor James Dunsmuir appointed A. G. Langley a provincial member of the legislative council.

A. G. Langley built the [illegible] home on [illegible] Bay, [illegible] facing west, called it an [illegible] and named it The Maples. There his children were born. The Maples stood just west of Fort Street, [illegible] with the gateway to the [illegible] estate, and the law [illegible] the [illegible] covered in ivy, [illegible] the hill from Fairfield United Church.

The home had fine views of Beacon Hill Park and the distant Olympic Mountains. There were garden parties and tennis games in summer and [illegible] dances and musicales and always among the guests were eligible young officers from Queen Victoria's fleet. Mrs. Langley died at The Maples in 1896 when she was 37. Mr. Langley took his motherless two daughters and three sons to England intending to stay with his family but The Maples called them back to far away Victoria and in his home here Mr. Langley died in 1896.

Dr. Bell was a young English man who had arrived at the Esquimalt naval base in a war ship. In Victoria he met Mary Isabella Langley and they were wed in April of 1899, as reported in The Colonist.

"At Christ Church Cathedral the Lord Bishop of Columbia assisted by Rev. Tom Roberts united in marriage Dr. Arthur G. Bell, surgeon, R.N., to Miss Mary Elizabeth Langley. A large number of friends assembled at the cathedral to witness the interesting ceremony, and afterwards attended a reception at The Maples. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. W. H. Langley, barrister-at-law, and was attended by Miss Clara Drake and her sister, Miss Katie Langley, as bridesmaids.

COSTLY PRESENTS

Dr. Bell was supported by Lieut. Elliott, R.N., and Mr. A. G. Langley, the bride's brother. The couple were the recipients of many handsome and costly presents testifying to their popularity among a very large circle of friends in Victoria. They will spend their honeymoon at Comox, where Dr. Bell has been stationed at the barracks. Work Point having under his care the members of Her Majesty's naval forces.

Shortly afterwards Dr. Bell took his bride to live in England and they were later joined by her sister, Miss Katie Langley, who died in England a few years ago.

Mrs. Bell died at Manor House, Buckden, in Huntingdonshire.

Fuel Problems for Area Follow in Strike's Wake

Serious fuel problems will confront Greater Victoria homes where wood is burned if the wood workers' strike continues for a long period.

Most wood orders placed before the strike have already been cancelled, a survey showed yesterday.

One Topaz Avenue wood lot from which recently advertised fir blocks at five cords for $20 can now offer only stove wood at $8 a cord. A spokesman for the firm said additional labor costs were responsible for the sudden increase in prices.

Most wood dealers report small reserve supplies but point out these will soon be gone. Cutting sawdust will be almost an impossibility within a short while according to several dealers.

First Choice Markings May Be Valid

Voters in the recent election who marked "X1" on their first choice on their ballots may not have spoiled them, according to returning officers.

Although no ruling has been made on the marking, returning officers in most cases are accepting the ballots, unless the mark is made in such a way as to identify the voter.

Sirens To Wail In Test Today

AROUND TOWN

The city's civil defense siren system will undergo a special test today, defense director Leonard Hatcher has announced.

All enrolled civilian emergency personnel will be expected to report by postcard, the audibility of the 10 sirens scattered throughout the city.

Mr. Hatcher stressed the importance of knowing just how well the system works.

"There are 10 sirens installed at present and their adequacy is a matter of some concern to us," he said.

Oily Waters of Harbor Annoy Publicity Official

Residents of houseboats and docks and water of the whole inner harbor are upset with oil and nobody seems to know where it comes from, Mr. Warren said.

He said that a visiting U.S. yachtsman, who tied up at the city float, had to have his dinghy completely repainted after an oil soaking.

Mr. Warren said that oil in such amounts had never coated the harbor in past years and is conducting an investigation.

Group Raps Condition Of Graves

The condition of soldiers' graves at the Ross Bay Cemetery Cross of Sacrifice has been criticized by the Victoria Municipal Chapter of the I.O.D.E.

When the order held its annual Memorial Day service, June 1, Mrs. A. W. Smith, secretary, said yesterday in a letter to the city, members were "very much concerned to find grass unkempt and overgrown around soldiers' plots."

The order has asked the city to draw the condition to the attention of cemetery caretakers.

HEISTERMAN, MANZER & WOOTTON,

U.K. Minister Leads Efforts To Bring Return of Flogging

LONDON, (CP) — A recent wave of lawlessness, involving brutal attacks on women and young children, has stepped up agitation in the United Kingdom for re-introduction of flogging as punishment for crimes of violence.

Leading the campaign is Rev. Gordon Lang, former Labor member [illegible] who says the country's prison population has reached an all-time record of more than 24,000, almost five times greater than the pre-war figure.

Unless some drastic deterrent is imposed, Mr. Lang believes activities of the bullying, sadistic type of criminal will continue. He favored measures aimed at the reform of all law-breakers, but not to the extent of "sentimentality or mollycoddling."

"What is most shocking, apart from the number and ferocity of these attacks, is the proportion of offenses committed by youths in their 'teens," Mr. Lang said. Their victims usually were innocent children or elderly women, incapable of defending themselves.

NOT FAMILIAR

Those who argued that flogging would encourage thugs to greater acts of violence, he thought, were not familiar with the type.

"I have no doubt at all that flogging is an effective deterrent. In the course of years I have interviewed men who suffered it and not one has said other than that the lash is the most dreaded of punishments. There is nothing immoral in flogging. Nor do I believe the type of person who renders himself liable to a whipping can be degraded by it."

At present flogging is permitted only to deal with cases of violence against wardens or other prison officials.

N.A.T.O. Forces In Manoeuvres

PORTSMOUTH, England June 18 (AP).—Three darkened convoys of warships and merchant vessels ploughed through the seas off Britain in pre-dawn darkness today as far-ranging Atlantic Pact sea and air manoeuvres got under way.

The exercise—called "Castanets" covers nearly 500,000 square miles of the English Channel, North Sea and North Atlantic. Some 250 ships and 400 planes of nine North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries—Britain, Canada, the United States, France, The Netherlands, Belgium, Norway, Denmark and Portugal—are taking part.

The aircraft carrier Magnificent is the only Canadian ship taking part in the exercise. The ship, commanded by Capt. K. L. Dyer, of Grande Pre, N.S., is carrying the 30th Carrier Air Group, consisting of one squadron of fighter planes and one squadron of anti-submarine aircraft.

Research Finds New Facts

OTTAWA, June 18 (CP)—The veterans department reported a new version of the old soldiers-never-die-theme with some surprise Tuesday.

E. J. Rider, research adviser to the department, told a Commons committee that statistics show they die slower than a lot of people thought they would.

In fact, he said, a check on several thousand needy veterans showed that those over 60 don't die as fast as non-veterans in the same age group.

The check was made into recipients of war veterans' allowances paid to aged and needy former servicemen. It showed that those in the age groups under 60 die at a considerably faster rate than non-veterans in the same age groups but this was not surprising since a man had to be in pretty bad shape to get the allowance under 60.

For those who drew the allowance at 60 on the basis of need, the figures showed that the death rate was actually slightly lower than that for all Canadians of 60 and over.

Both Howard Green (PC—Vancouver-Quadra) and A. J. Brooks (PC—Royal), frontline veterans of the first war, said veterans in their youth were the hardiest element of the population and their death rate could hardly be compared with that of the population as a whole.

Southampton Plans Welcome for Liner

LONDON, June 18 (Reuters)—The port of Southampton plans a New York style welcome for the 53,000-ton American liner United States when she arrives on her maiden voyage next month. Fire-floats, decorated launches, a brass band and at least 5,000 spectators will greet the giant ship.

Court Reserves Decision On Out-of-Season Clams

David McMillan, Holland Avenue, appeared in provincial police court Tuesday on a charge of possessing 20 cases (1,300 pounds) of little neck clams out of season.

Through counsel, however, the court was informed the clams had been acquired prior to closing of the season at midnight last May 31. Magistrate A. I. Thomas reserved his decision until next Monday.

McMillan entered a plea of guilty to the "possession" charge.

The clams were confiscated by officers of the federal fisheries department after the cases were seen on the Black Ball Ferry Line wharf June 4. The clams were to have gone to the United States.

IMPAIRED DRIVING

Thomas Dixon, 448 Admirals, was fined $200 and $3 costs after pleading guilty to an impaired driving charge dated June 15. The court was told he had side-swiped two other vehicles on the Four-Mile Hill. He was apprehended shortly after by the R.C.M.P. in Esquimalt.

Gordon Taylor, 20, of Sooke, paid a $25 fine and $3 costs after pleading guilty to a careless driving charge. While attempting to pass another car on Sooke Road June 15 he traveled about 750 feet along the edge of the highway finally to come to a stop against a mail box and a heap of boulders. His driver's license was suspended for three months.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Twenty-year-old Gerrit Vanek, Sooke, received a suspended sentence after pleading guilty to carrying a rifle without a proper firearms' license. He was apprehended recently at the Woodside Farm, West Coast Road, by game warden Robert Sinclair.

Vanek told court he had only come to Canada three months ago from Holland and was not acquainted with the firearms' license regulation.

Magistrate Thomas described young Vanek as "a clean-cut looking lad," and explained he was awarding the suspended sentence in view of the accused's recent arrival in Canada. The rifle would be returned, he said, when Vanek obtained the necessary license.

Arthur Lowe Buried Here

Funeral service for Arthur Lowe, 88, who died in hospital Sunday, were held yesterday in Thomson's Funeral Home chapel. Rev. Canon G. Biddie officiated and burial was in Ross Bay Cemetery.

He was a life member of the Old Comrades Association, 2nd Battalion, Duke of Wellington's West Riding Regiment.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. J. H. Cosier, Mrs. Ethel Rowe and Amy E. Lowe, all of Victoria; and two sons, Francis A. in Halifax, and Arthur E. Lowe in Victoria.

Negligence Held Cause Of Death

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., June 18 (CP).—A Queen's Bench Court jury Tuesday ruled that negligence by two staff members of the Prince Albert clinic resulted in the death of Carol S. Pollard, 28, of Prince Albert last October 9. His widow, Mrs. Ida Pollard, was awarded damages of $18,353.

The jury found that both Dr. Andrew O. Edes and Nurse Leona Friesen were negligent in treating Pollard.

Evidence showed that Pollard died in hospital several hours after a drug was injected into his thumb in preparation for an operation. It was testified the drug was a constrictor and stimulant instead of an anaesthetic.

The plaintiff contended the doctor and nurse were negligent in not exercising greater care. The defense argued the amount of drug injected was not enough to cause death and that death was due to Pollard being hypersentitive to the drug.

Pollard is survived by his widow and four children ranging in age from seven to one year.

Conference At Qualicum

QUALICUM BEACH, June 18—Twenty-four members of the operations department of T.C.A.'s western region are attending a three-day business meeting at Qualicum Beach Hotel.

Subjects of discussion will be schedules despatch and maintenance of aircraft communications.

E. W. Stull, Vancouver operations manager, is chairman. H. Keil of Winnipeg, assistant general auditor, will address managers on the accounting end of T.C.A. Winnipeg, Lethbridge, Edmonton, Calgary, Saskatoon, Medicine Hat, Yorkton, Regina, Vancouver and Montreal are represented.

Sedgman, Hart Top-Seeded At Wimbledon

LONDON, June 18 (AP).—Frank Sedgman of Australia has been seeded No. 1 in the men's singles at Wimbledon.

In a departure from tennis custom, defending champion Dick Savitt of the U.S. has been seeded fourth behind Jaroslav Drobny, now playing out of Egypt, and Vic Seixas, top-ranked American player.

Balance of the men's seedings are: Ken McGregor, Australian champion, fifth; Herb Flam, U.S., sixth; Eric Sturgess, South Africa, seventh; Mervyn Rose, Australia, eighth; Art Larsen, U.S., ninth; Gardner Mulloy, 10th; Ham Richardson, U.S., 11th; and Budge Patty, 1950 champion, 12th.

Americans held the top five seedings in women's singles. In order, they are: defending champion Doris Hart, first; U.S. champion Maureen Connolly, second; Shirley Fry, Louise Brough and Mrs. Pat Todd.

Miss Hart also shares first seedings with Miss Fry in women's doubles and with Sedgman in mixed doubles.

Uncle Wiggily Story - - -

By Howard Garis

COOKIE NUMBERS

The Lady Mouse Teacher in Hollow Tree School was ready now to start the examinations. All those who answered correctly the school examination questions would pass on to higher classes. All the pupils, from Buster and his scout chums to Bunty the orphan rabbit and Jingle Jangle, the little twins, wanted to give right answers and pass.

"Now, boys and girls," said Uncle Wiggily, who was a visitor in Hollow Tree School, "quiet down, please, and get ready for the examinations. Quiet, and listen to Miss Mouse."

Uncle Wiggily had to tell the pupils to quiet down. The reason for this was there had been much excitement when Clarence the fox was driven away from the window by puffs of chalk powder. That was in yesterday's story.

"Are you all ready now for the examination questions?" asked Miss Mouse as she looked at the green ribbon on her tail. "Are you all ready?"

"Yes, teacher!" answered all the boy and girl animals.

Then, suddenly, just as I told you at the end of yesterday's story, a buzzing sound was heard in the schoolroom.

"What is that?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"That is Junie the June bug," answered Miss Mouse. "He flew in a little while ago when Buster opened the window screen."

"What does Junie want?" inquired Mr. Longears.

"Perhaps Junie will tell you himself, Uncle Wiggily, while I get the examination questions ready," squeaked Miss Mouse.

"Very well, Junie, why are you buzzing?" asked the rabbit uncle as he looked at the big bug on the teacher's desk.

"I want to ask you a question, if your please," buzzed Junie. "Bunty says you are the only one who can answer this question."

"What is your question?" Uncle Wiggily wanted to know.

"It is a gazinta question," replied Junie.

"A gazinta question?" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily, puzzled like and not understanding. "What is a gazinta question, Junie?"

"It's part of Bunty's school number work," answered the bug. "You know when she says, two gazinta four two times and two gazinta six three times and three gazinta—"

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "I see what you mean. Bunty says the words GOES INTO so fast that they sound like one word—GAZINTA."

"Is that it?" asked Junie.

"That is it," replied Uncle Wiggily. "Now, Junie, what do you want to know about the GOES INTO number work. What is your question?"

"My question is this," buzzed Junie. "Why does one number have to go into some other number? Why can't the number stay outside and not go in?"

"That isn't an easy question to answer," said Uncle Wiggily. "But I think I can show you the answer if I can't tell it to you, Junie. Let's go into a quiet corner by ourselves so we will not disturb the examination work of Miss Mouse and her pupils."

"All right, here we go into the corner," buzzed Junie. He flew off the teacher's desk to a corner of the room. Uncle Wiggily hopped to the same corner. By this time Miss Mouse had asked Buster and some of his scout chums their examination questions. Some of the questions were about rivers flowing into the ocean and other questions were about how many square feet there are in a room that is ten feet long and ten feet wide.

Buster and his chums had answered these examination questions correctly. And while they were waiting for the next questions the animal boys were allowed to stand in the corner where Uncle Wiggily was going to answer Junie's question.

"What I want to know," buzzed the bug, "is why does the number five have to go into the number fifteen? Please tell me."

"I will," said Uncle Wiggily. From his pocket the rabbit gentleman took fifteen cookies. "Something is going to happen. I will tell you about it tomorrow, if the eggbeater doesn't roll the chocolate cake around like a hoop before the bread knife has time to cut a slice for the coffeepot."

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♣	Pass	1♡	Pass
2 N.T.	Pass	3 N.T.	All Pass

A heart opening would have presented declarer with his ninth trick, but West chose the spade ten to begin an excellent defense. However, South lost the game because of his own playing error.

Declarer won the spade and began the clubs by leading a low one won by West's nine. Since the fall of North's seven on the third round would make East's six as good as the eight, East seized the chance to false-card by dropping the eight on this first lead. West continued with the nine of spades, won by dummy's queen. Declarer led another club toward his hand, and when East played the jack, South finessed the queen and lost to West's king. Back came the third spade, East playing the jack under North's king. South had to discard on this trick and since he didn't yet know which, if either of the minor suits would break, he let go a heart, and promptly led a heart. West let South's queen hold the trick. Now, when neither the diamonds nor the clubs split, South couldn't make more than eight tricks.

South's confusion on the clubs must be credited in part to West's false-carding, but it should not have mattered if South had observed correct technique. His second club lead should have been the ace; when West's king dropped, that would be the ball game. But—suppose the king didn't appear. Declarer would be able to make the game if the clubs split, or East had the king, by leading a third round of the suit from the dummy. It was the unnecessary, and dangerous club finesse that beat him.

By RITA DEL MAR

For Thursday, June 19, 1952.

Today's quotation: "The man who never alters his opinion is like standing water, and breeds reptiles of the mind." Blake.

Thursday for everyone: The morning comprises the best portion of this day. Get away to a prompt start. Later: attend to routine mainly. Evening: see those who are ill or shut-in. Throughout the day and evening: refrain from hasty acts or decisions; use extra care en route.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below:

Aries (March 21 to April 19): Hold yourself ready for unexpected outlays. Renew old ties, visit acquaintances.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20): Hold back on unannounced measures unless you're ready for revelations. Exert charm, tact; be courteous.

Gemini (May 21 to June 20): Respond to appeals for your services. Elude questionable characters, odd surroundings.

Cancer (June 21 to July 22): Make a rapid changeover if unscheduled events upset your calendar today. Don't mix friendships and money matters.

Leo (July 23 to August 22): Use your authority wisely; be poised for involved circumstances. Maintain harmony.

Virgo (August 23 to September 22): Set your mind at rest if the day's prospects are changed. Double-check plans.

Libra (September 23 to October 22): Hold on to your "stockpile" of energy or cash. Be secretive; practical.

Scorpio (October 23 to November 21): Keep your poise by being ready for undercurrents in your dealings and contacts today.

Sagittarius (November 22 to December 21): Take care to adhere to your diet; find mental and physical poise if you're "under the weather."

Capricorn (December 22 to January 19): Play safe; harness the urge to take chances and keep it within safe bounds.

Aquarius (January 20 to February 18): Get your program outlined early; alter it only if an unexpected guest descends on you.

Pisces (February 19 to March 20): Be quick on the trigger in adjusting your program to suit today's developments. Balance accounts.

Planning ahead: Good for entertaining, sociability, etc: June 19, evening of 23, evening of 24 and 25, afternoon of 23, 27, July 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, daytime of 10th.

Japan Applies To Join U.N.

TOKYO, June 18 (Reuters)—Japan Tuesday sent an official application for United Nations membership to the Japanese Consulate-General in New York, a foreign office spokesman said.

U.I.C. Suggestions Under Continuous Study

OTTAWA, June 18 (CP).—Labor Minister Gregg said today the Unemployment Insurance Commission has under continuous study suggestions for improvements in operation of unemployment insurance in Canada.

These studies will not stop now that the government is proposing legislation to boost maximum unemployment benefits by $3 a week to $24 from $21, cut the waiting period to five from eight days and make other changes.

He promised in the Commons during clause-by-clause study of the bill that all suggestions by members would be considered.

Stanley Knowles (C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre) and Clairie Gillies (C.C.F., Cape Breton South) reiterated suggestions that unemployment benefits should not be cut off when an applicant becomes sick.

Mr. Knowles also said that because of the size to which the unemployment insurance fund has grown—approximately $700,000,000—either benefits should be further increased or employee contributions should be cut down.

Mr. Gillis again urged that "discrimination" against married women getting unemployment benefits be discarded.

Arthur Laing (L., Vancouver South) asked if striking British Columbia lumber workers will be eligible for unemployment insurance.

Mr. Gregg said the act provides that workers on strike do not qualify for benefits.

Club Predicted Log Race To Take Place July 5

The Capital City Yacht Clubs' annual women's predicted log race will be held July 5 from Canoe Cove to Bedwell Harbor, South Pender Island.

Mrs. E. H. Henshall, president of the club's women's auxiliary—sponsors of the event—reports between 15 and 20 vessels will compete.

Skippered by the members' wives, the pleasure-craft will be leaving Canoe Cove at frequent intervals after 3 p.m., depending on speed and other factors of the craft. Deadline finish time at Bedwell Harbor has been set at 5 p.m.

A dance will be held at Bedwell Harbor and the competing vessels will stay there overnight.

First, second and consolation prizes will be awarded to winners of the predicted log contest. Mrs. Norman Hill and Mrs. C. Watts are serving as co-chairmen of the race committee.

All Hope Abandoned For Drought Relief

SYDNEY, June 18 (AP).—All hope of relief before November from the great North Australian drought now has been officially abandoned.

This grim decision came by radio from government officers sent by truck across the desolate plains that stretch in three directions from Darwin. They say light, bog-making showers now will only hasten the death of the 1,000,000 head of cattle in the drought region.

An area comparable in size with the whole of free Europe is gripped by a strange and devastating drough which experts believe will have its repercussions on trade and even defense for 10 to 15 years.

Already the minister for agriculture and commerce, J. McEwen, has announced Australia cannot expect to export any beef this year. The drought is expected to cut the output of beef by nearly 100,000 tons.

RECORD OUTPUT

Australia's output of beef last year was 652,000 tons, of which more than 60,000 tons was exported. The beef cattle population was 10,200,000, a record.

Beef exports for the nine months to the end of March brought Australia $9,755,200, a drop of $1,612,000 from the corresponding period in 1950-51.

Exports probably will be limited for several years because of severe losses among breeding cows and calves.

The Australian agricultural council said recovery from the drought in Northern Australia will take at least five years.

A Brisbane (Queensland) newspaper editor has just returned from a 2,500-mile tour of the stricken area including the world's largest cattle station, Alexandria Downs, which sprawls over 11,200 square miles.

HARDLY A DROP

"There is hardly a drop of surface water left," says the editor in his report.

"The aborigines have abandoned their rain-making corroborees. Every night for months their chants and dances went on around the campfires, but medicine men now admit they are licked.

"Some 50,000 cattle are already dead in the northern territory alone. The death toll could be 150,000 by November.

"A while ago, cattle were dropping on the shadeless plains from heat exhaustion. The sun temperature has been 140 degrees . . . now gaunt, shaky-legged bullocks and cows face freezing nights. In the mornings they are found dead curled up for warmth, like tired kittens."
